

Contents

Part I Neuroscience, ethics, agency, and the self

- 1 Moral decision-making and the brain 3
Patricia Smith Churchland
- 2 A case study in neuroethics: the nature of moral judgment 17
Adina Roskies
- 3 Moral and legal responsibility and the new neuroscience 33
Stephen J. Morse
- 4 Brains, lies, and psychological explanations 51
Thomas Buller
- 5 Being in the world: neuroscience and the ethical agent 61
Laurie Zoloth
- 6 Creativity, gratitude, and the enhancement debate 75
Erik Parens
- 7 Ethical dilemmas in neurodegenerative disease: respecting patients at the twilight of agency 87
Agnieszka Jaworska

Part II Neuroethics in practice

- 8 From genome to brainome: charting the lessons learned 105
Ronald M. Green
- 9 Protecting human subjects in brain research: a pragmatic perspective 123
Franklin G. Miller and Joseph J. Fins
- 10 Facts, fictions, and the future of neuroethics 141
Michael S. Gazzaniga
- 11 A picture is worth 1000 words, but which 1000? 149
Judy Illes, Eric Racine, and Matthew P. Kirschen
- 12 When genes and brains unite: ethical implications of genomic neuroimaging 169
Turhan Canli
- 13 Engineering the brain 185
Kenneth R. Foster
- 14 Transcranial magnetic stimulation and the human brain: an ethical evaluation 201
Megan S. Steven and Alvaro Pascual-Leone

15 Functional neurosurgical intervention: neuroethics in the operating room 213

Paul J. Ford and Jaimie M. Henderson

16 Clinicians, patients, and the brain 229

Robert Klitzman

Part III Justice, social institutions, and neuroethics

17 The social effects of advances in neuroscience: legal problems,
legal perspectives 245

Henry T. Greely

18 Neuroethics in education 265

Kimberly Sheridan, Elena Zinchenko, and Howard Gardner

19 Poverty, privilege, and brain development: empirical findings and ethical implications 277

Martha J. Farah, Kimberly G. Noble, and Hallam Hurt

20 Religious responses to neuroscientific questions 289

Paul Root Wolpe

21 The mind in the movies: a neuroethical analysis of the portrayal of the mind in popular media 297

Maren Grainger-Monsen and Kim Karetzky

Afterword

Neuroethics: mapping a new interdisciplinary 313

Donald Kennedy

Index 321