

CONTENTS

Thanks xi

Introduction 1

- Twenty-One Good Reasons to Become a Lawyer
- Seventeen Hard Facts to Consider Before Going to Law School

I. Determining Your Legal Quotient . . . 11

(Is your mind a steel trap . . . or a blocked bowel?)

II. Getting into the Right

Law School 17

(“My roommate the Moonie scored in the 98th percentile on the LSAT and got into Harvard. Why didn’t I?”)

- The LSAT
- Sample LSAT Questions

III. Law School . . . 23

The Law School Experience

(“Are you telling me Socrates did it this way? . . .”)

Law Students and Law Professors

(The Good, the Bad, and the Neurotic)

viii • CONTENTS

Law Students

The Mainstreamer

The Grad School Burnout

The Computerhead

The Flamer

Law Professors

The National Expert

The Fuzzhead

The Old Curmudgeon

The Young Star

The Deadwood

The Entertainer

Law School in a Nutshell: The Hornbook's Hornbook

Contracts

(The Ties that Bind)

Civil Procedure

(Avoiding the Merits of a Case)

Torts

(Ambulance Chasing for Fun and Profit)

Real Property

(Dirt and Things Thereon)

Law Review

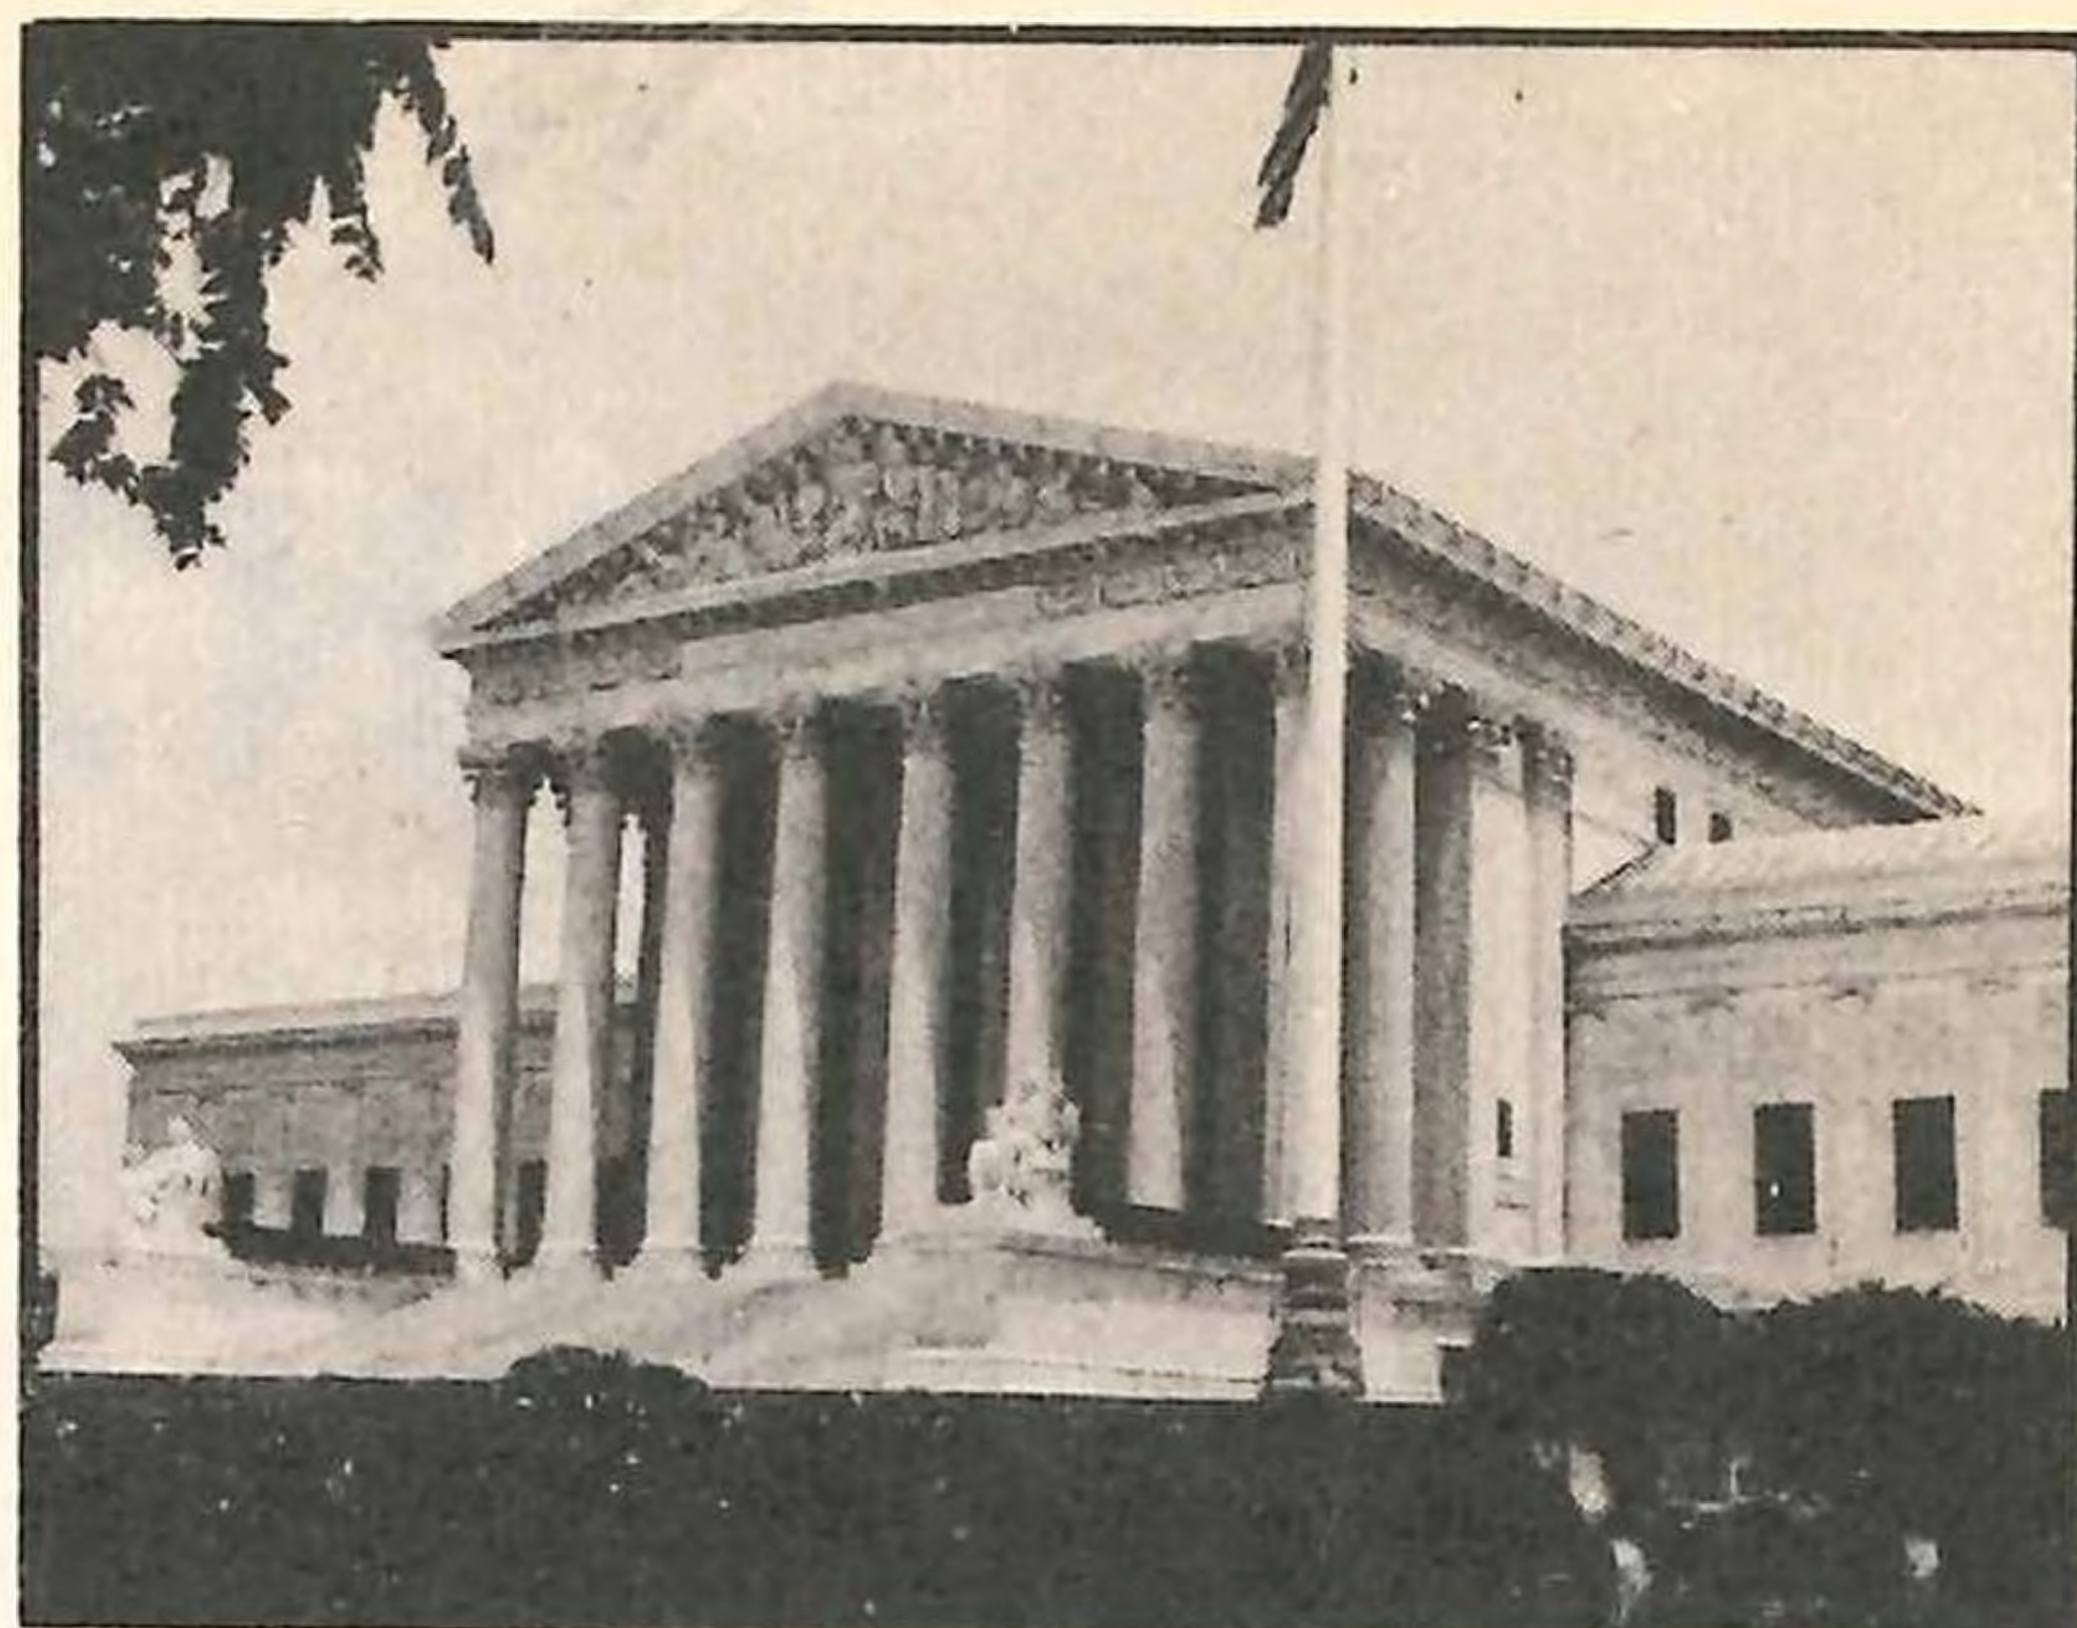

- Legal Citation—The Blue Book
- Blue Book Quiz

IV. Summer Clerkships57

(Attend Summer Camp for Pay!)

V. The Bar Exam...61

(Thousands of morons have passed it—so can you!)

VI. Judicial Clerkships67

(Why wait until you're fifty to play God?)

VII. Recruiting73

("I got all dressed up just to talk to this yutz?")

Interviewing

- The On-Campus Interview
- The Office Callback
- The Recruiting Lunch
- The Résumé
- The Cover Letter
- Recruiting Letters

Recruiting Misrepresentations

Hard Questions

VIII. How to Survive (and Make Partner) in Your Law Firm 93

(You can make it to the top if you know what to kiss, and whose.)

Rule 1. C.Y.A. (and seven other essential rules of survival)

IX. Once You're a Partner 139

(The Crock at the End of the Rainbow)

X. Elements of Style: The Lawyerly Look 149

(My wardrobe should be as dull as my work?)

XI. Alternative Routes: Government Service, Country Law 157

XII. Women in the Law 163

(Subpoena Envy?)

- How Is a Woman to Cope?
- The Bush Administration Shows Lawyers the Way

XIII. Legal Writing 171

(“Excuse me, but what does this say in English?”)

XIV. Drafting Legal Documents: Contracts, Leases, Wills 177

(More is better—until it begins to make sense.)

XV. Lawyers and Humor185

(There are no funny lawyers—only funny people who made a career mistake.)

XVI. The Courts189

(Old litigators never die—they just lose their appeal.)

XVII. Legal Ethics .197

(And Other Great Oxymorons)

- Courtesy among Lawyers: "After You, Dogbreath"
- How Far Can You Go?

XVIII. The Creative Art of Billing203

(Who says there are only twenty-four hours in a day?)

XIX. Attorneys-at-Love209

(Dealing with Romantic Feelings Toward a Lawyer)

- What to Bring with You on Your First Date with a Lawyer
- Spotting Lawyers Out on the Town

XX. You and Your Lawyer217

(Finding Him, Using Him, Keeping Him in His Place)

XXI. Legal Glossary224

(Of Foreign—and Forked—Tongues)