

Contents

Preface v

Table of statutes xxi

Table of statutory instruments xxv

Table of European legislation xxix

Table of conventions xxxiii

Table of cases xxxv

Chapter 1 Introduction by Richard Stones 1

CHAPTER SUMMARY 1

E-COMMERCE ACROSS BORDERS 1

Difficulties arising 1

The EU 'single market' 2

'Single market' measures 3

Future developments in the EU 4

Weaknesses of the EU single market 5

E-SPECIFIC DEVELOPMENTS 6

AIM AND SCOPE OF THIS BOOK 8

Parts of this book 8

Terminology 10

Glossary 10

Practical checklists 10

Material up to date to 31 July 2003 10

Not legal advice 10

CHAPTER CONCLUSION 11

Chapter 2 The E-Commerce Directive by Emily Reid and Roger Tym 12

CHAPTER SUMMARY 12

INTRODUCTION 12

E-COMMERCE LEGISLATION	13
SCOPE	14
Activities falling within the scope of the ECD	14
The meaning of 'information society services'	17
Fields specifically excluded from the ECD	19
KEY OBJECTIVE	19
The internal market provisions	20
The e-commerce framework	20
THE SCOPE AND APPLICATION OF THE INTERNAL MARKET PROVISIONS	21
The 'co-ordinated field'	21
LIMITS ON THE SCOPE OF THE INTERNAL MARKET PROVISIONS	23
General derogations	24
Application of the general derogations in the UK	24
Specific ('case by case') derogations	25
Application of the specific derogations in the UK	26
THE E-COMMERCE FRAMEWORK	27
GENERAL INFORMATION REQUIREMENTS	28
The ECR and the ECO Sourcebook	28
COMMERCIAL COMMUNICATIONS AND ORDERS	30
LIABILITY OF 'INTERMEDIARY SERVICE PROVIDERS'	31
ECD provisions relating to 'conduits', 'caching' and hosting'	31
UK provisions relating to 'conduits', 'caching' and 'hosting'	31
CODES OF CONDUCT, DISPUTE RESOLUTION AND COURT ACTIONS	34
Codes of conduct	35
Out-of-court dispute settlements	38
Court actions	41
SANCTIONS	41
CHAPTER CONCLUSION	47

Chapter 3 Co-ordinated field by Paul Anning and Roger Tym 48

CHAPTER SUMMARY	48
INTRODUCTION	48
FINANCIAL SERVICES	50
Background	50
FSMA 2000 – general prohibition	50
Authorisation	51
FSMA 2000 – financial promotion restriction	56
FSA HANDBOOK – KEY ELEMENTS RELEVANT TO E-FINANCE	59
FSA Handbook	59
ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATIONS	62
Communicating with customers	62
ECO – E-COMMERCE DIRECTIVE SOURCEBOOK	64

Background	64
Electronic commerce activities	64
Authorised status	64
Domestic ECA providers	65
Outgoing ECA providers	65
Incoming ECA providers	66
Incoming insurance companies	67
Directions against inward services from EEA provider	67
Minimum information requirements	68
ELM – ELECTRONIC MONEY SOURCEBOOK	68
Restriction on issuing e-money	68
What is ‘e-money’?	69
Application of FSA Handbook	69
Prudential requirements on ELMIs	70
Restrictions on the activities of ELMIs	70
OPERATIONAL RISK	70
Recent FSA developments	70
Links with current international work	72
OUTSOURCING	73
FSA’s current and proposed guidance	73
Material outsourcings	74
Documenting an outsourcing	74
ON-LINE INVESTMENT ADVICE	75
CONSUMER CREDIT	77
Background	77
Regulated lending	77
What is credit?	77
Who is a ‘consumer’?	78
Main exemptions	78
Licensing	79
Conduct of business	80
Territorial issues	80
Future developments	81
CONSUMER PROTECTION AND LIABILITY	81
Introduction	81
Rules of construction	81
Regulatory and statutory controls	82
UCTA 1977	82
UTCCR	84
Statutory implied terms	85
Reform of UCTA 1977 and UTCCR	85
FSA approach to the use of its powers under UTCCR	88
NON-STATUTORY CODES	90

Banking and Business Banking Codes	90
Mortgage Code	91
GISC General Insurance and Commercial Codes	92
Other codes	92

CHAPTER CONCLUSION 93

Chapter 4 Constructing a website by Emily Reid 94

CHAPTER SUMMARY 94

INTRODUCTION 94

INFRASTRUCTURE 95

What is a website? 95

Website architecture 96

Need for flexibility 97

Need for control 99

Record keeping 100

THE LANDING PAGE 100

Whose laws apply? 100

Making clear where business is not conducted 101

Making clear where business is conducted 102

Jurisdiction and the ECD 102

Use of the website by customers away from home 103

THE HOME PAGE 104

Which laws apply? 104

Website terms and conditions 105

CHAPTER CONCLUSION 106

Chapter 5 Advertising and marketing financial products and services by Julie Patient and Nicholas Holman 107

CHAPTER SUMMARY 107

INTRODUCTION 107

REQUIREMENTS OF THE ELECTRONIC COMMERCE DIRECTIVE 108

The meaning of 'commercial communication' 108

Content requirements for commercial communications 109

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS FOR ADVERTISING 112

International codes 112

British Code of Advertising, Sales Promotion and Direct Marketing 113

Consumer Protection Act 1987 and the Statutory Code of Practice and other legislation 114

SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS FOR FSA REGULATED INVESTMENT AND SERVICES PRODUCTS 114

Financial promotions 114

FSA rules 116

SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS FOR CCA 1974 REGULATED PRODUCTS 119

Background 119

Scope 119

General requirements 120

Particular CCA 1974 requirements and issues 120

COMPARATIVE ADVERTISEMENTS 125

The Control of Misleading Advertisements (Amendment) Regulations 2000 125

Trade Marks Act 1994 126

DIRECT MARKETING 129

Introduction 129

Data protection 129

Preference schemes in the UK 129

E-mail and text messages 130

Summary of individual/corporate opt-in and opt-out rights 133

PROMOTING FINANCIAL WEBSITES – RAISING YOUR PROFILE 133

Name recognition 133

Directory services 134

Search engines 134

Advertising on other websites -- banner advertisements 135

CHECKLIST 135

Chapter 6 Contracting on-line by Emily Reid, Azrine Addruse and Heather Rowe 137

CHAPTER SUMMARY 137

INTRODUCTION 137

BACKGROUND 138

Obstacles to on-line contracts under English law 138

Where and when are contracts formed on-line? 141

Incorporating terms into a contract 145

CONTRACTS CONCLUDED BY ELECTRONIC MEANS 146

DTI Review 146

ECD – ON-LINE CONTRACTING 147

Treatment of contracts 147

Information to be provided 148

Placing of the order 148

ON-LINE CONTRACTING IN THE UK (IMPLEMENTATION OF ARTICLES 9, 10 AND 11 OF THE ECD) 149

ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATIONS ACT 2000 149

Failure to implement Article 9? – CCA 1974 requirements for material form 151

INFORMATION AND PROCEDURAL REQUIREMENTS RELATING TO AGREEMENTS CONCLUDED ELECTRONICALLY 153

Agreements that can be concluded electronically 153

Categorisation of e-finance providers under the FSA Handbook 153

Overdrafts and agreements for FS ISS concluded electronically with outgoing ECA providers and domestic providers 154

Scope of application	154
How pre-contractual information is to be provided	155
Required pre-contractual information	156
Orders and procedure for placing orders – the ECR, reg 11 and ECO 3 Annex 1	157
SANCTIONS FOR BREACHES IN RELATION TO ‘ORDERS’	158
Agreements concluded electronically with incoming ECA providers	158
Provision of essential information to consumers: UK requirements	159
OTHER REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO THE FORMATION OF CONTRACTS ON-LINE	159
DISTANCE MARKETING DIRECTIVE FOR CONSUMER FINANCIAL SERVICES (‘DMD’)	159
Introduction	159
Scope and application	160
Application to non-EEA firms	160
Implementation and enforcement	161
Relevant DMD definitions	169
Information requirements	169
DMD pre-contractual information	170
How should the DMD pre-contractual information be represented?	172
Other important provisions in the DMD	173
CHAPTER CONCLUSION	176

Chapter 7 Managing the customer relationship on-line by Roger Tym and Nicholas Holman 177

CHAPTER SUMMARY	177
INTRODUCTION	177
GENERAL ISSUES ARISING IN CONNECTION WITH THE ON-LINE MANAGEMENT OF FINANCIAL PRODUCTS AND SERVICES	178
On-line services typically offered by financial service providers	178
On-line access to information	179
Transacting on-line	181
Security	182
Allocation of risk between provider and customer	183
Statutory restrictions on limiting or excluding liability	184
Allocating risk for errors and unauthorised access	186
Allocation of risk – conclusions	187
Agreements covering on-line account management services	188
CHECKLIST	189
STATUTORY REQUIREMENTS IN RELATION TO THE PROVISION OF INFORMATION AND STATEMENTS	192
Banking Code	192
Consumer Credit Act 1974	193
Requirements arising during the currency of CCA 1974 agreements	193
Other requirements for notice	198

Financial Services and Markets Act 2000	199
SPECIFIC ISSUES RELATING TO THE USE OF CARDS TO MAKE PAYMENTS ON-LINE	201
Liability for unauthorised use	201
Liability for defective merchandise or non-receipt of merchandise purchased over the Internet	203
CHAPTER CONCLUSION	204

Chapter 8 Data protection by Heather Rowe 205

CHAPTER SUMMARY	205
INTRODUCTION	205
BASIC DEFINITIONS	206
Data subject	206
Data	206
Relevant filing system	207
Data controller	208
Data processor	208
Personal data	208
Processing	209
Sensitive personal data	209
INTERPRETATION AND JURISDICTION	210
NOTIFICATION BY DATA CONTROLLERS – THE DPA 1998, Pt III	212
Rights of data subjects	213
THE DATA PROTECTION PRINCIPLES – DPA 1998, Sch 1	219
GUIDANCE IN THE DPA 1998 FOR INTERPRETING THE DATA PROTECTION PRINCIPLES	220
The first principle	220
CONDITIONS RELEVANT FOR THE PURPOSES OF THE FIRST DATA PROTECTION PRINCIPLE IN PROCESSING NON-SENSITIVE PERSONAL DATA – DPA 1998, SCH 2	225
CONDITIONS RELEVANT FOR THE PURPOSES OF THE FIRST DATA PROTECTION PRINCIPLE: PROCESSING SENSITIVE PERSONAL DATA – DPA 1998, SCH 3	226
CONDITIONS THAT MUST BE COMPLIED WITH BEFORE TRANSFERRING DATA OUTSIDE THE EEA TO COUNTRIES WHICH DO NOT PROVIDE ADEQUATE PROTECTION FOR PERSONAL DATA – DPA 1998, SCH 4	230
WHAT IS CONSENT? – SOME GENERAL OBSERVATIONS	232
THE DATA PROTECTION PRINCIPLES IN CYBERSPACE	233
Privacy policies/privacy statements	233
The use of cookies	235
Collecting data about third parties on a website	236
Changing the purposes for which data has been collected	237
RELATED LEGISLATION	239
The Telecommunications (Data Protection and Privacy) Regulations 1999	240
The Regulation of Investigatory Powers Act 2000	240
The Human Rights Act 1998	242

CHAPTER CONCLUSION 244

DRAFT LETTER FROM A DATA CONTROLLER TO A
DATA PROCESSOR 245

CHECKLIST 252

Chapter 9 Money laundering by Benjamin Regnard-Weinrabe and Jon Holland 253

CHAPTER SUMMARY 253

INTRODUCTION 254

What is money laundering? 254

Proceeds of crime or terrorist financing? 254

The money laundering regime before December 2001 255

Changes to the pre-December 2001 money laundering regime 256

OVERVIEW OF THE FSA RULES 256

OVERVIEW OF JMLSG GUIDANCE NOTES 257

KNOW YOUR CLIENT AND KNOW YOUR BUSINESS 259

Introduction 259

What is a transaction? 259

Is it a business relationship or a one-off transaction? 259

General principles for initial KYC procedures 260

General principles for Know Your Business procedures 261

Exemptions from KYC 261

When must KYC be carried out? 263

Steps subsequent to KYC 264

Identification of third parties 265

Joint applicants 265

Transactions in the names of third parties 265

Where the applicant is an agent 265

Where an intermediary introduces the applicant 266

Correspondent relationships 266

KYC – evidence of identity 267

ANTI-TERRORISM CRIME AND SECURITY ACT 2001 272

MONEY LAUNDERING REGULATIONS 2001 273

NEW SANCTIONS 273

PROCEEDS OF CRIME ACT 2002 274

SECOND MONEY LAUNDERING DIRECTIVE 275

THE DRAFT MONEY LAUNDERING REGULATIONS 2003 276

INTERNATIONAL INITIATIVES 276

FATF recommendations 276

Wolfsberg Group 278

US developments 279

CHAPTER CONCLUSION 280

Chapter 10 Jurisdiction by Heather Rowe 282

CHAPTER SUMMARY 282

INTRODUCTION 282

Some statistics 283

Regimes for determining jurisdiction 283

The Brussels Regulation 284

Are there drawbacks for e-finance in the Brussels Regulation? 287

Other potential developments in relation to cross-border dealings 289

The Rome II Regulation 290

The UK government's views on the Rome II Regulation 290

The current position with Rome II 291

Practical issues regarding the application of the Brussels Regulation 293

CHAPTER CONCLUSION 294

Chapter 11 E-money by Emily Reid and Heather Rowe 295

CHAPTER SUMMARY 295

INTRODUCTION 295

What is money? 296

What is legal tender? 296

'Digital' or 'electronic' cash or 'e-money' 297

What is a deposit? 298

Types of 'electronic money' 298

Need for regulation? 301

The E-Money Directive 302

Objectives 302

Key features 302

UK IMPLEMENTATION 305

THE RAO – KEY FEATURES IN RELATION TO E-MONEY 306

Definitions 306

E-money not a deposit 308

Small electronic money issuers 308

Exclusion of electronic money from the Financial Services Compensation Scheme 309

THE ELECTRONIC MONEY SOURCEBOOK 309

LIMITATIONS ON ACTIVITIES 310

Restriction on activities 310

Prohibition on issuing e-money at a discount 311

REDEMPTION, INFORMATION REQUIREMENTS AND

PURSE LIMITS 312

Redemption rights 312

Compensation for loss or misuse of an e-money device 314

Redemption charges 315

Contract and information requirements 315

Extending the scope of a firm's redemption, information requirements and purse limit obligations 318

SMALL E-MONEY ISSUERS 319

CHAPTER CONCLUSION 320

Chapter 12 IP rights issues by David Choi 322

CHAPTER SUMMARY 322

INTRODUCTION 322

What they are and why they are important 322

TYPES OF INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS 323

COPYRIGHT 324

Copyright in website content 324

Basic principles of copyright law 324

Existing legal principles applied to electronic copyright 325

The EU Copyright Directive 326

Source code 328

Practical considerations relating to copyright issues in relation to a website 328

DATABASE RIGHTS 330

Introduction 330

Overview of rights 330

TRADE MARKS, PASSING OFF, DOMAIN NAMES, LINKING, FRAMING, META-TAGS AND KEYWORD BUYS 333

Introduction 333

Domain names 333

ICANN dispute resolution 338

Nominet dispute resolution 339

Linking and framing 342

Linking terms and conditions 346

Key word buys 347

Conclusions 348

REGISTERED DESIGNS 348

Introduction 348

Overview of the new UK designs regime 349

Protection of icons 350

SOFTWARE AND BUSINESS METHOD PATENTS 351

Introduction 351

What are the basic requirements for a patent? 352

When is a computer program patentable in the European Patent Office ('EPO')? 353

New principles for patenting software innovations under UK law 356

Why a patent may be better protection than copyright for a software invention 357

Obtaining a patent 358

Taking the first patenting steps 359

Beware prior disclosure! 360

Disclosure as a defensive strategy 360

Comparing the position in the EU with that in the US, Japan, Hong Kong, Australia and China 361

Resolution of disputes involving patents 361

Groundless threats of patent infringement proceedings 364

Conclusions 364

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION 365

Introduction 365

The law of confidence 365

Legal proceedings 366

Reliance on encryption techniques 368

Obligations of website operators 369

OWNERSHIP OF IP RIGHTS 370

The development of e-finance new products and services 370

'In-house' development 371

Contractors, licensing and buying-in 373

Conclusions 376

CHAPTER CONCLUSIONS 377

A checklist of intellectual property issues to consider in any E-finance project 377

Chapter 13 Electronic signatures and admissibility of computer records by Mark Taylor 382

CHAPTER SUMMARY 382

INTRODUCTION 383

What is a signature? 383

Electronic signatures 383

HOW DIGITAL SIGNATURES WORK 384

LEGISLATION APPLICABLE TO ELECTRONIC SIGNATURES 386

THE ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATIONS ACT 2000 387

Introduction 387

The UK government's key principles 387

Electronic signatures and electronic communications 388

Certification authorities 390

Liability issues, key escrow and law enforcement 391

THE ELECTRONIC SIGNATURES DIRECTIVE 392

Introduction 392

Certification service providers 394

Certificates 395

Market access and internal market 396

Legal effects of electronic signatures 396

Liability 397

Taking the first patenting steps	359
Beware prior disclosure!	360
Disclosure as a defensive strategy	360
Comparing the position in the EU with that in the US, Japan, Hong Kong, Australia and China	361
Resolution of disputes involving patents	361
Groundless threats of patent infringement proceedings	364
Conclusions	364

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION 365

Introduction	365
The law of confidence	365
Legal proceedings	366
Reliance on encryption techniques	368
Obligations of website operators	369

OWNERSHIP OF IP RIGHTS 370

The development of e-finance new products and services	370
'In-house' development	371
Contractors, licensing and buying-in	373
Conclusions	376

CHAPTER CONCLUSIONS 377

A checklist of intellectual property issues to consider in any E-finance project	377
--	-----

Chapter 13 Electronic signatures and admissibility of computer records by Mark Taylor 382

CHAPTER SUMMARY 382

INTRODUCTION 383

What is a signature?	383
Electronic signatures	383

HOW DIGITAL SIGNATURES WORK 384

LEGISLATION APPLICABLE TO ELECTRONIC SIGNATURES 386

THE ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATIONS ACT 2000 387

Introduction	387
The UK government's key principles	387
Electronic signatures and electronic communications	388
Certification authorities	390
Liability issues, key escrow and law enforcement	391

THE ELECTRONIC SIGNATURES DIRECTIVE 392

Introduction	392
Certification service providers	394
Certificates	395
Market access and internal market	396
Legal effects of electronic signatures	396
Liability	397

Liability in relation to certificates outside Article 6 of the Electronic Signatures Directive	398
International aspects	398
Data protection	399
Impact of the Electronic Signatures Directive	399
ELECTRONIC SIGNATURES REGULATIONS 2002	399
Introduction	399
Definitions	400
Certification service providers	400
Supervision of certification service providers	401
Legal effects of electronic signatures	401
Liability	403
Limiting liability	405
Liability in the case of certificates outside the ESR, reg 4	406
Summary of liability	407
Data protection	407
Potential considerations in using electronic signatures	408
THE ADMISSIBILITY OF COMPUTER RECORDS	408
Introduction	408
Hearsay rule	408
Criminal proceedings	409
Civil proceedings	410
Electronic signatures	411
Practical considerations	411
CHAPTER CONCLUSION	412
Electronic signatures	412
Admissibility of computer records	412
 Chapter 14 Security by Mark Taylor	 413
CHAPTER SUMMARY	413
ENCRYPTION	413
Introduction	413
Security	413
Symmetric (private key) encryption systems	414
Asymmetric (public key) encryption systems	414
Uses	415
EXPORT CONTROLS	415
Introduction	415
Export controls in the UK and Europe	415
Export controls in the United States	420
Domestic controls	422
THE REGULATION OF INVESTIGATORY POWERS ACT 2000	423
Introduction	423

Interception of communications	424
Warrants to Intercept	426
Interception capability	427
Communications data	429
Collection by the public authority	430
Access protected and encrypted information	431
Internationally	434
Status of the Codes of Practice	434
Key Points under the RIPA 2000	435
MONITORING AND RECORDING BUSINESS COMMUNICATIONS	435
The Regulation of Investigatory Powers Act 2000	435
The Lawful Business Practice Regulations 2000	436
BUSINESS COMMUNICATIONS ONLY	436
Saving for European Law	439
Data Protection Considerations	439
Relationship between the Lawful Business Practice Regulations and the Data Protection Act requirements	441
Human Rights Act considerations	442
THE ANTI-TERRORISM, CRIME AND SECURITY ACT 2001	443
DECEPTION	444
Introduction	444
Current offences	444
The concept of deception	445
Problems with the existing Theft Act offences	446
Law Commission Report on deception	447
Looking ahead	448
THE COMPUTER MISUSE ACT 1990	449
Introduction	449
The offences created by the CMA 1990	450
'Causing a computer to perform any function'	451
'Authority'	452
CMA 1990, s 3 offences	453
The CMA 1990 in practice	453
AGGREGATION SERVICES – WHAT ARE THEY AND WHAT ARE THE RISKS?	454
Introduction	454
Legal issues	455
Security	459
Other reputational and liability issues	459
Regulatory considerations	460
Customer agreements	460
Agreement for aggregation services	461
Aggregation with agreement	462

Best practice guidelines	462
CHAPTER CONCLUSION	462

Appendix 1 Glossary	464
---------------------	-----

Appendix 2 Website checklist	478
------------------------------	-----

Index	487
-------	-----