

Contents

Table of Cases	xiii
Table of Legislation and Other Materials	xxiii

Introduction	1
A Contractual Performance	1
B The Protection of Contractual Performance	3
C Remedies under Consideration	4
D Comparative Considerations	5
E Reform at European Level	9
F The Monograph in Outline	11
1 The structure of the monograph	11
2 The arguments of the monograph in outline	12

I THE SPECIFIC ENFORCEMENT AND THE DISCHARGE OF PRIMARY OBLIGATIONS

1 Compulsion	17
A Introduction	17
B Specific Remedies in English Contract Law	20
1 The award of an agreed sum	21
2 Specific relief in equity: specific performance and injunctions	25
3 Concluding remarks on specific remedies in English law	36
C Specific Remedies in French Contract Law	37
1 The wide availability of specific remedies	37
2 The reasons underlying the wide availability of specific remedies	49
3 Concluding remarks on specific remedies in England and France	52
D A Wider Approach to Specific Remedies in English Contract Law?	56
1 The surmountable objections of 'constant supervision' and 'contempt of court'	56
2 A narrow approach to the interests of the injured promisee	59
3 Further policy objections to specific performance and mandatory injunctions	62
4 Widening the availability of specific remedies in English contract law	63
E Conclusion	68

2 Termination for Breach of Contract	70
A Introduction	70
B Termination for Breach of Contract in English Contract Law	71
1 Circumstances that give rise to a right of termination at common law	71
2 Termination clauses	75
3 Termination and judicial intervention	78
4 Concluding remarks on termination in English law	79
C Termination for Breach of Contract in French Contract Law	80
1 The judicial nature of termination	80
2 Grace periods (délai de grâce)	91
3 No anticipatory breach in French law	92
4 Concluding remarks on termination in French law	93
D Termination: Comparative Remarks	94
1 Termination as an indicator of the degree of protection of contractual performance	94
2 Internal coherency and consistency in the remedial frameworks of England and France	97
3 The protection of performance from the point of view of the promisor	99
E Conclusion	105

II THE SECONDARY OBLIGATION TO PAY DAMAGES

3 Compensation	109
A Introduction	109
B The Measure of Damages Awards	110
1 Introduction	110
2 The measure of damages awards in English contract law	111
3 The measure of damages awards in French contract law	114
4 Reasonableness and the assessment of damages	118
5 Conclusion	120
C The Compensation of Non-Pecuniary Loss	121
1 Introduction	121
2 The compensation of non-pecuniary loss in English contract law	121
3 The compensation of non-pecuniary loss in French contract law	125
4 Towards the wider availability of damages for non-pecuniary loss in English contract law?	126
5 Conclusion	128
D Damages for Loss Suffered by Third Parties	128
1 Introduction	128
2 Damages for loss suffered by third parties in English contract law	129
3 Damages for loss suffered by third parties in French contract law	135
4 The function of damages: comparative remarks	140
5 Conclusion	141
E Loss Mitigation	142
1 Introduction	142
2 Loss mitigation in English law	142
3 Loss mitigation in French law	147

4 Loss mitigation and the performance interest	151
5 Conclusion	154
F Restitution	155
1 Introduction	155
2 The introduction of gain-based relief in English contract law	156
3 Gain-based relief and the performance interest	160
4 Conclusion	166
G Conclusion	166

III ENHANCING THE PROTECTION OF THE PERFORMANCE INTEREST

4 Deterrence and Punishment	171
A Introduction	171
B Punitive Damages for Breach of Contract in English Law	173
1 The unavailability of punitive damages for breach of contract	173
2 Towards the introduction of punitive damages in English contract law?	175
3 An assessment of the possible introduction of punitive damages in English contract law	181
C Punitive Damages for Breach of Contract in French Law	192
1 The scope of punitive damages in the Catala proposals	193
2 Deterrence and punishment in article 1371 of the Catala proposals	195
3 An assessment of the possible introduction of punitive damages in French contract law	196
4 Comparative remarks on the introduction of punitive damages in English law and French law	204
D Conclusion	206
5 Agreed Remedies	207
A Introduction	207
B Agreed Remedies and the Performance Interest	208
1 Specific relief clauses	208
2 Clauses providing for the cost of cure measure of damages	215
3 Restitution clauses	217
4 Penalty clauses	220
C Possible Objections to Remedial Terms Agreed Inter Partes	223
1 Unfairness and potential abuse	223
2 The usurpation of the role of the court	230
3 The deterrent effect of remedial terms	233
4 Prevention of agreement	234
5 Efficiency theories	235
D Conclusion	236
Conclusion	237
A The Protection of the Performance Interest in English and French Contract Law	237

B Explaining the Divergences between English and French Law	239
C Towards the Enhanced Protection of the Performance Interest in English Contract Law	240
Bibliography	243
Index	257