

Contents

Preface	iii
----------------------	-----

Introduction

MASUDA Masayuki	1
------------------------------	---

Part I U.S.-China Strategic Competition and the Russia Factor

Chapter 1

China's Major-power Diplomacy in an Era of Great Power Competition

MASUDA Masayuki	13
------------------------------	----

Column

The Strategic Value of China for Saudi Arabia and the Limitations

YOSHIDA Tomoaki	39
------------------------------	----

Chapter 2

The United States and Competition with China America's Entrenched Hardline Posturing

ARAKAKI Hiromu	43
-----------------------------	----

Chapter 3

Russia's Classical Notion of Great Power and Waning "Sphere of Influence"

YAMAZOE Hiroshi	65
------------------------------	----

Part II Great Power Rivalry and Regional Order

Chapter 4

ASEAN’s Neutrality
A Survival Strategy amid U.S.-China Confrontation
SHOJI Tomotaka 89

Chapter 5

Australia in an Era of Great Power Competition
Navigating the Middle Ground between the Alliance and the Region
SATAKE Tomohiko 111

Column

The Revival of the Quad amidst Great Power Competition
OGUMA Shinya 129

Chapter 6

South Asia under Great Power Rivalry
The Advent of U.S.-China Competition and the Vestiges of the Global War on Terror
KURITA Masahiro 133

Chapter 7

Europe in the Strategic Competition
Between the International and Regional Order
TANAKA Ryosuke 153

Notes 177

Index 212

Editor and Contributors 218