

Contents

List of figures	8
List of tables	9
Abbreviations	10
Signs and symbols in the textbook	11
1. CHAPTER:CHANGE MANAGEMENT (MOC)	15
1.1 Objectives of the chapter	16
1.2 Definitions of expressions for MOC hybridisation	16
1.2.1 Cross-border MOC measures	16
1.2.2 Approaches to MOC	23
1.2.3 Organizational processes and structures	25
1.3 Changes of managerial attitude	26
1.3.1 Organizational metaphors of MOC	27
1.3.2 Models of MOC	29
1.3.3 Start-up change management	29
1.3.4 Proactive and reactive access to organizations in change	32
1.4 Change management in relation to the business strategy	32
1.4.1 Interconnectedness of business and change strategies	34
1.4.2 Interconnectedness of MOC programs	34
1.5 Impact of MOC on organization’s performance	35
1.5.1 Types of changes	35
1.5.2 Impact of structure, size, and other specifics	35
2. CHAPTER:CHANGE MODELS	41
2.1 Objectives of the chapter	42
2.2 Lewin’s model	42
2.2.1 Three phase model	42
2.2.2 Analysing contradictory forces in change	43
2.2.3 Analysis of driving and restraining power (force) fields	44
2.3 Carnall’s model of negotiation with corporate culture	45
2.3.1 Management change	46
2.3.2 Interest groups	47
2.4 Congruent and congress models	49
2.4.1 Capturing the core change	51
2.4.2 Influence on the organization’s culture	52
2.4.3 Transition control with termination phase	52
2.4.4 Neutral zones	54
2.4.5 New start	56

2.5	Kotter's model of eight steps	56
2.5.1	Urgency consciousness	57
2.5.2	Identification of the problem	57
2.5.3	Opportunities	57
2.6	Benefits of models	58
2.6.1	Use of models – pros	58
2.6.2	Model limits – cons	59
3.	CHAPTER:INVENTION AND INNOVATION	65
3.1	Objectives of the chapter	66
3.2	Specific form and resources of innovation	66
3.2.1	Industrial protection	66
3.2.2	Legal protection in the Czech Republic	66
3.2.3	Creative process	67
3.2.4	Innovative process	69
3.3	Promoting innovation	70
3.3.1	Creative thinking	70
3.3.2	Tools	71
3.3.3	Conditions	71
3.4	Concept of support of innovations	73
3.4.1	Science	73
3.4.2	Research	73
3.4.3	Innovation in the Czech Republic	73
3.5	Case of change/ innovation relationship	74
3.5.1	Measuring changes - metrology	74
3.5.2	Utilization of opportunities	75
3.5.3	Management of innovation life cycle.	76
3.5.4	Implementing innovation into practice using change management	78
4.	CHAPTER:PEOPLE IN CHANGE	83
4.1	Objectives of the chapter	84
4.2	Basic role of people and manager in changes	84
4.2.1	Organizational relations and their management	84
4.2.2	Change team - agenda specifics	85
4.2.3	Visions of changes	85
4.2.4	Creation and communication of changes	85
4.3	Human response to announcement of change	86
4.3.1	Resistance and commitment in change	87
4.3.2	Management of peoples' emotions in changes	87
4.3.3	Development of perception of change	88
4.4	Changes by manager intervention	89
4.4.1	Intervention tools to negative reactions	89
4.4.2	Phases	90
4.4.3	Implementation procedure	90
4.5	Beliefs of change	90
4.5.1	Acceptable presentations of beliefs	91
4.5.2	Methods administering beliefs in interest groups	91

4.6	Importance of visions	92
4.6.1	Clarity	93
4.6.2	Communication	93
4.7	Setting resistance	94
4.7.1	Defiance	94
4.7.2	Fear	95
4.7.3	Stress	97
4.7.4	Rooted habits	97
4.7.5	Affectivity in change	97
4.8	Working with resistance	98
4.8.1	Causes of employee loss during change	98
4.8.2	Work with consequences	98
4.8.3	Group management during change	98
4.8.4	Addressing negative emotions	100
5.	CHAPTER:RESTRUCTURING	105
5.1	Objectives of the chapter	106
5.2	Background of restructuring	106
5.2.1	Reasons	106
5.2.2	Process	108
5.2.3	Financial restructuring	109
5.3	Subjects	112
5.3.1	Restructuring perspectives of individual	112
5.3.2	Influence of interest groups	114
5.3.3	Defence versus strategic restructuring	114
5.4	Operationalization of constructs for restructuring	116
5.4.1	Task description, scenarios and detailed overview of all treatments	116
5.4.2	Description of the working conditions	117
5.4.3	Your Task	118
5.4.4	Social situations for intrapreneurial orientation	118
6.	CHAPTER:LEADER FOR CHANGES	125
6.1	Objectives of the chapter	126
6.2	Manager and leader differences	126
6.2.1	Emotional prerequisites of leadership	126
6.2.2	Transformation leadership and its characteristics	126
6.2.3	Fifth LEADERSHIP level	127
6.3	Reasons for using leadership in changes	128
6.3.1	The role of management in change	128
6.3.2	Personal approach	128
6.3.3	Implementation of changes	128
6.4	Effects	129
6.4.1	Specifics	129
6.4.2	Neuroticism in transaction leadership	130
6.4.3	Transformation Leadership	134
	Epilogue	136
	References	138
	Glossary	144