11

What Real Classrooms Are Like 13

Rapid Pace of Classrooms 13

Immediacy of Classrooms 13

Interruptions in Classrooms 14

Social Dynamics of Classrooms 14

Becoming Aware of Classroom Behavior: Lenses for Self-Improvement	15
To Become Aware of Your Own Teaching Behavior	16
To Discover Alternative Instructional Practices and New Solutions to Instructional Problems	17
To Share Your Personal Teaching Strengths	17
To Focus Your Reflections on Important Areas of Teacher Effectiveness	17
Eight Lenses for Classroom Observation	18
Lens 1: Consider the Learning Climate	18
Lens 2: Focus on Classroom Management	18
Lens 3: Look for Lesson Clarity	18
Lens 4: Verify Variety	18
Lens 5: Observe Task Orientation	19
Lens 6: Examine Engagement	19
Lens 7: Measure Student Success	19
Lens 8: Look for Higher Thought Processes and Performance Outcomes	19
Challenges to Observing in Classrooms	19
Sources of Influence on Observations from Outside Ourselves	21
Student Ability and Achievement	21
Classroom Characteristics	21
Participatory and Cooperative Student Behavior	21
Experience and Education of the Teacher	22
School, Grade, and Subject Matter	22
Individual and Cultural Diversity	22
Sources of Influence on Observations from within Ourselves	23
Your Own Experiences in School	23
Recent Influences and Training	23
Who Might Be Watching; Who May Find Out	24
Choosing a Useful Lens: The Need to Structure Observations	24
