

Contents

Preface by Charly Cox	xi
Foreword by Kimberly Nicholas PhD	xiii
Introduction	xv
PART A: What on earth does coaching have to do with climate change?
1. A human problem with a human solution	3
2. How change works: and what that means for the climate crisis individually, relationally and systemically	12
3. Empowerment and belief: a model for resonant action	20
4. Coaching for climate action: what is climate change coaching?	34
PART B: Transform the way you communicate
5. Climate change coaching basics	51
6. How to make and break influence	66
7. Making it OK to talk about climate change	80
8. When there's too much 'not enough': dealing with scarcity	96
9. Overcoming overwhelm	110
10. Understanding intrinsic values to overcome resistance to action	122
11. Defining a dream to run towards not a nightmare to run from	138
12. Setting goals and getting into action	150
13. Rage against the machine: turning anger and blame into forward energy	161
14. Making space for climate grief	175
PART C: A coaching approach in systems change
15. How to help organizations to commit to change	187
16. How to bring people with you in change	203

17. Creating a climate action culture navigate the challenges of landing big climate actions	216
--	-----

18. How the cumulative acts of individuals build to create social change and paradigm shifts	229
--	-----

PART D: Coach yourself: how to sustain yourself while catalysing climate action

19. How to thrive not survive	247
-------------------------------	-----

20. When the going gets tough: how to recover from stress and burnout	258
---	-----

21. Loving, grieving and hoping	270
---------------------------------	-----

Acknowledgements	279
-------------------------	-----

Endnotes	282
-----------------	-----

Bibliography	292
---------------------	-----

Index	300
--------------	-----