

CONTENTS

List of figures	viii
List of tables	ix
Preface	xi
Acknowledgements	xiv
PART I
Character structure	1
1 Listening perspectives and object relations foundations	3
The premise	3
Infants, traumatic meanings, and an integrated listening stance	5
Foundations of listening perspectives	7
2 Object relations reconsidered	17
Listening perspectives regarding intrapsychic organization and development	18
Object relations defined and reconstructed	22
Treatment implications	40
PART II
Trauma re-examined and redefined	51
3 The traumatic moment	53
Trauma reassessed	53
Primary and secondary trauma	56
Stretch, strain, breach, and their relational contexts	58
Trauma and the mind-body relationship	60

4	Splitting, part 1	67
	Affects, splitting, repression, contingency categorization, and biology	67
5	Predator Other	73
	Intrapsychic predation	73
	Shelly and her Predator Other (PO) experience	78
	Dirty deals done in desperation	79
	Psychopathic sadism in the Self-Other (S-O) interchange	80
	Evil	81
	Disorders of knowing	82
	Loss of omnipotence and the birth of the PO	82
	Templates for TEND listening and the Stockholm Syndrome of infancy	84
	Bill and his true-self/false-self power struggle	85
	Perverse modes of relatedness	87
	Dissociation, fragmentation, and self-states	89
	Predator—the movie	90
	Identification-knowing and the PO	91
	Self harm and the PO	92
	Content, context, and shifting self-states	93
6	Splitting, part 2	98
	Trauma-derived foundations of splitting	98
	Ambivalence	99
	Birth of the false-self and evolution of its secondary autonomy	102
	Fight, flight, freeze, and fawn	105
	Guilt, anxiety, and shame	106
	Trauma's effects on the interplay between psyche and soma	106
	TEND foundations of affects, maturity, and splitting	107
	Alexithymia	109
	Cumulative traumas and their effects on mind and body	119
	Mourning the loss of primary objects	121
7	Trauma and intrapsychic organization revisited	128

PART III

Self and attachment

8	Object relations	133
	Trauma and alexithymia	139
	Affects	141
	Developmental vs. incident trauma	143

Schemas and traumatic dissociation	144
Doomsday orientation	148
Safety, security, subjectivity, and their interpersonal, intrapsychic contexts	149
Alienation from self and Bion's conception and pre-conception	151
Interpersonal space, experience potential, and alternative Others (alt-Os)	155
Going on being and the experience of too much	160

PART IVDenial and not knowing revisited 167

9	Disavowals	169
	"Thou shalt not know thy self, and thou shalt not know the other"	169
	Denial and symbolic thought	172
	Primary and secondary process cognition	173
	Primary and secondary disavowal	174
	Attacks on linking	175
	Terminology reconsiderations	176
	Poisonous pedagogy and covert methods of interpersonal control	177
10	SAO/TEND retrospective	180
	Affects, emotions, dissociation, and attacks on linking	181
	Trauma, normal development, and reality	183
	Therapeutic implications	184

Index	189
--------------	-----