

Contents

List of illustrations	xii
List of contributors	xiii
Acknowledgements	xviii

1 Neoliberalism, Eastern Europe and collective memory: setting the framework	1
JOANNA WAWRZYNIAK AND VERONIKA PEHE

PART I

Founding myths and counter-narratives of the transformation	19
--	-----------

2 Shock therapy mythologies: contested memories of Poland's Balcerowicz Plan	21
FLORIAN PETERS

3 A recurring bone of contention: the memory politics of Slovakia's economic transformation	39
MATEJ IVANČÍK

4 From communism to neoliberalism: conflated memories of Bulgaria's corrupted transition	59
TOM JUNES AND IVO ILIEV

5 Political uses of memory of the early period of the post-Soviet transformations in contemporary Russia	77
OLGA MALINOVA

- 6 Regimes of truth and the discontent of memories: self-deception and denial during the growing together of the two Germanies 93
THOMAS LINDENBERGER

PART II

Vernacular memories and biographical narratives 113

- 7 Economic change, skills and the shifting horizons of social recognition: East German and Czech care workers remember the disruptive 1990s 115

TILL HILMAR

- 8 'The lost years': gender, citizenship and economic change in Romania during the long 1990s 132

JILL MASSINO

- 9 'There was no more work, no more life, no more anything...': Hungarian workers' memories of the neoliberal transition 149

TIBOR VALUCH

- 10 How the Polish business elite remembers the neoliberal turn 164

KAMIL LIPIŃSKI AND JOANNA WAWRZYŃIAK

- 11 The neoliberal turn in biographical narratives of young people in Poland 181

ADAM MROZOWICKI AND JUSTYNA KAJTA

PART III

Cultural memory of economic change 199

- 12 Privatization comedies as media of memory of the Czech(oslovak) economic transformation 201

VERONIKA PEHE

- 13 Screening the criminal underworld of capitalist nation-state making: Dogs and memory of the 1990s in Poland 217

SAYGUN GÖKARIKSEL

14	The moral right to economic crime: remembering the Russian 1990s in a tragic mode in Aleksey Ivanov's Nasty Weather (Nenast'ye)	230
	KSENIA ROBBE
15	Films without a viewer: Ukrainian filmmakers and memory of the neoliberal turn in the post-Soviet space	247
	OLGA GONTARSKA AND VERONIKA PEHE
16	The German 'floating gap': post-unification memory in literary fiction	264
	JOANNA JABŁKOWSKA AND MAGDALENA SARYUSZ-WOLSKA
17	'We're rushing towards capitalism like the Titanic towards a fucking iceberg': representations of East German (social) transformation in films and TV series from the 2000s until today	282
	ANNA LUX
18	Memories of the neoliberal turn in comparative perspective: a research agenda	297
	VERONIKA PEHE AND JOANNA WAWRZYNIAK
	Index	308