

Contents

List of Tables, Maps and Diagrams	ix
Acknowledgements	x
Abbreviations	xi
Introduction	1
1. Colonial Domination as a Process of Marginalisation	6
1.1. The Political Economy of Settler Colonialism in New South Wales	7
1.2. Secondary Elaborations: Colonial Occupation of the Macleay River Valley	15
2. The Economic Incorporation of the Dhan-Gadi	31
2.1. The Seasonal Rhythm of Rural Employment	32
2.2. The Perpetuation of a Subsistence Ideology	49
3. Encapsulation, Involution and the Reconstitution of Social Life	54
3.1. The Post-Frontier Context	55
3.2. The Decline of Inter-group Relations	59
3.2(a) The decline of 'right sort' marriages	60
3.2(b) The end of the initiation ceremonies	66
4. Creative Bricolage and Cultural Domination	74
4.1. The Reconstitution of Everyday Life	75
4.2. The Social Significance of the Camp-Fire	83
5. The Evolution of State Control (1880–1940): Segregated Dirt or Assimilation?	90
5.1. Legalistic Custodianship	91
5.2. The Construction of Aboriginality	97
5.3. The Emergence of New Strategies of Intervention	105

5.4. Dependency and Domestication	110
5.5. Resistance to the 'Persecution Board'	116
6. The New Order: The Aborigines' Welfare Board	125
6.1. The Eclipse of the 'Persecution Board'	125
6.2. Assimilation: the Construction of a New Discourse	135
6.3. The Emergence of a Culture of Resistance	140
6.4. The Struggle for Social Meaning	150
7. The Deregulation of a Colonial Being: the Aboriginal as Universal Being	157
7.1. The Politics of Assimilation	157
7.2. The Deterritorialisation and Scientisation of State Control	163
7.3. Formal Egalitarianism as Assimilation	167
7.4. The Quantification of Aboriginality	179
8. Racism as Egalitarianism: Changes in Racial Discourse	185
8.1. Egalitarianism: the Totem of Equality	185
8.2. The Decline of the Rural Economy	187
8.3. The Shifts in the Meaning of Racial Discourse	192
9. The Politics of Identity: from Equal Rights to Land Rights	200
9.1. The Ideology of Cultural Pluralism	203
9.2. The Politics of Identity	210
9.3. The Politics of the Past	219
Appendices	230
I. Article published by Burnt Bridge resident, George Davis (n.d.): The Aborigines of Australia	230
II. List 1: Mid-North Coast Reserves established between 1880-1908	232
List 2: Aboriginal Farmers on the Macleay River (from Official Records)	234
References	236
Index	247