

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments

Graphic Medicine's Possible Futures: Reconsidering Poetics and Reading

ERIN LA COUR AND ANNA POLETTI

Conflict or Compromise?: An Imagined Conversation with John Hicklenton and Lindsay Cooper about Living with Multiple Sclerosis

JOHN MIERS

Out of Sync: Chronic Illness, Time, and Comics Memoir

JARED GARDNER

"Is this recovery?": Chronicity and Closure in Graphic Illness Memoir

NANCY K. MILLER

Face as Landscape: Refiguring Illness, Disability, and Disorders in David B.'s Epileptic

ERIN LA COUR

Disability Daily Drawn: A Comics Collaboration

JOANN PURCELL WITH SIMONE PURCELL RANDMAA

vii	Reframing "Nothing About Us Without Us": Comics and Intellectual Disability
	SUSAN M. SQUIER	117
1	Graphic Confessions and the Vulnerability Hangover from Hell
	SAFDAR AHMED	133
25	Drawing Is the Best Medicine: Somatic Dis-ease and Graphic Revenge in Miriam Katin's Letting It Go
	JULIA WATSON	147
39	If That's What You Want to Call It: An Illustrated Rx-ay for Graphic Medicine
	SUZY BECKER	169
53	Drawn to History: Healing, Dementia, and the Armenian Genocide in the Intertextual Collage of Aliceheimer's
	CRYSTAL YIN LIE	183
71	Outsider Writing: The Healing Art of Robert Walser
	KIENE BRILLENBURG WURTH	203
97	Contributors	223