

Contents

List of contributors

vii

Preface

x

Introduction: Russia foreign policy and the return to authoritarian roots

1

ROGER E. KANET AND DINA MOULIOUKOVA

PART I Sources and tools of Russian foreign policy

9

1 Russia's self-image as a great power

11

DINA MOULIOUKOVA WITH ROGER E. KANET

2 Russian strategic culture and renewed conflict with the west

34

ROGER E. KANET

3 Images and decision-making in foreign policy:
the case of Vladimir Putin

61

ALEKSANDAR JANKOVSKI

4 Atlanticism in an age of great power competition:
is Russia achieving its goals?

92

SUZANNE LOFTUS

5 The battle of ontological narratives: Russia and the annexation of Crimea

115

DINA MOULIOUKOVA WITH ROGER E. KANET

- 6 The role of energy in Russian foreign policy 140
ARSEN GASPARYAN

PART II The Russian response to U.S. policies 177

- 7 NATO, U.S. grand strategy and the Russian response 179
RAJAN MENON AND WILLIAM RUGER
- 8 The politics of sanctions in U.S.-Russia relations 214
CHARLES E. ZIEGLER

PART III Russian policy in the developing world 237

- 9 A comparison of Soviet and Russian foreign policy:
ontological security and policy toward Africa 239
ROGER E. KANET AND DINA MOULIOUKOVA
- 10 Russia's expanding role in the eastern Mediterranean: opportunities and challenges 260
NURAY V. IBRYAMOVA
- 11 The new great game: ontological factors in western and rising powers' competition in Venezuela 276
DINA MOULIOUKOVA AND KARINA BRENNAN
- Conclusion 296
ROGER E. KANET AND DINA MOULIOUKOVA

- Index* 298