

TABLE OF CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION	9
CHAPTER 1
FINANCIAL LAW AND TAX LAW – GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS	13
1.1. Public finance and finance law – concept and definitions	13
1.2. General principles of financial law in the Republic of Poland	14
1.3. Public vs. private finance	15
1.4. Functions of public finance	17
1.5. Financial law and tax law as branches (fields) of law	18
1.6. Sources of financial and tax law	20
CHAPTER 2
THE FOUNDATIONS OF STATE FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT	24
2.1. The basic principles of financial management of the state	24
2.2. The principle of accumulation and disbursement of financial resources in the manner prescribed by law	25
2.3. The principle of acquisition, disposal and encumbrance of real estate, shares or stocks and the issue of securities by the Treasury, the National Bank of Poland or other state legal persons on the terms and in the manner prescribed by statute	27
2.4. The principle of establishing a monopoly by means of statute	28
2.5. The principle of contracting loans and granting guarantees and sureties financed by the State under the terms and procedures specified by statute	30

2.6. The principle of prohibiting loans, guarantees and financial warranties resulting in a government debt exceeding three-fifths of the annual GDP	33
CHAPTER 3
TREASURY	35
3.1. Definition of Treasury	35
3.2. The General Attorney's Office of the Republic of Poland	36
3.3. Treasury liability	38
3.4. Treasury companies	40
3.5. State property management	42
3.6. Real estate management	45
CHAPTER 4
STATE BUDGET	47
4.1. The concept of the budget and the preliminary budget	47
4.1.1. The concept of the state budget	47
4.1.2. Budgetary principles	50
4.1.3. The concept of the preliminary budget	52
4.2. Budgetary equilibrium	53
4.3. Legislative initiative with respect to the budget	55
4.4. The powers of the Sejm and the Senate regarding the Budget Act (Articles 222 and 223)	59
4.5. The powers of the President of the Republic of Poland regarding the Budget Act	65
4.6. Shortening the term of the office of the Sejm	66
4.7. Report on the implementation of the budget law	70
CHAPTER 5
NATIONAL PUBLIC DEBT	74
5.1. Debt limit	74
5.2. Calculation of government debt	76
5.3. Financing of borrowing needs of the state budget	79

5.4. Prudential and sanctioning procedures	80
5.4.1. General issues	80
5.4.2. Precautionary procedures	82
5.4.3. Sanitation procedures	83
5.5. Principles and procedure for the issue of Treasury securities	84

CHAPTER 6

LOCAL GOVERNMENT FINANCE	87
6.1. Introduction	87
6.2. Revenue of local government units	88
6.2.1. Adequacy principle	88
6.2.2. Types of revenue of local government units	91
6.2.3. Law on revenues of local government units	95
6.2.4. European Charter of Local Self-Government	99
6.3. Local taxes and charges	102

CHAPTER 7

TAXATION AND TAX LAW	105
7.1. Taxes and other public levies – scope constitutional regulations	105
7.1.1. Introduction	105
7.1.2. Public levies	106
7.1.3. Taxation and features of tax regulation in Poland	106
7.1.4. Fee	110
7.1.5. Surcharge	111
7.1.6. Custom duties	111
7.1.7. Other public contributions	112
7.1.8. Limits of application of the ‘tax’ constitutional regulation	113
7.2. Constitutional grounds for taxation	115
7.3. The concept of universality of taxation as a constitutional principle	116
7.4. Principle of statutory levying of taxes	119
7.5. Sources of tax law other than the Act	122

7.6. Interpretation acts and the principle of statutory taxation	124
7.7. Tax legislation	127

CHAPTER 8

NATIONAL BANK OF POLAND	129
8.1. Introductory remarks	129
8.2. Status and scope of constitutional tasks of the National Bank of Poland	130
8.3. Principle of independence of the National Bank of Poland	137
8.4. Internal bodies of the National Bank of Poland	138
8.5. Interaction of the NBP with other state authorities	144

CHAPTER 9

THE RIGHT TO SOCIAL SECURITY	146
9.1. Social security – concept and definitions	146
9.2. Article 67 of the Polish Constitution – theory and jurisprudence	148
9.3. The right to social security in the constitutions of selected European countries	158

BIBIOGRAPHY (BASIC LITERATURE)	161
--------------------------------------	-----