

Contents

Table of Cases	xiii
Table of Legislation	xxv
Abbreviations	xxix

PART I. RULES AND PRINCIPLES OF JUDICIAL REVIEW

A. THE AVAILABILITY OF JUDICIAL REVIEW

1. The Nature of Judicial Review	3
Introduction	3
What is Judicial Review About?	6
What is Judicial Review?	8
The Importance of Remedial Law	10
2. The Scope of Judicial Review	12
Public Law and Private Law	12
Respondents	19
Reviewable Decisions and Acts	23
Beyond Judicial Control	41
3. Applicants	44
Private Judicial Review Actions	44
Public and Hybrid Actions	47
The Function of Standing Rules	58
4. Remedies	61
Uses and Availability	61
Exclusion of Remedies	79
5. Procedures	88
The Application for Judicial Review	88
AJR Procedure and Procedure by Writ Contrasted	89
Public Judicial Review Actions	94

Protecting Private Law Rights under Order 53	96
Exceptions to the Exclusivity Principle	97
Let the Applicant Beware!	101
Further Procedural Reforms	101
B. GROUNDS OF JUDICIAL REVIEW
6. Authority	105
Introduction	105
Law, Fact, and Policy	107
Questions of Law	117
Questions of Fact	126
Postscript on Authority	130
7. The Decision-Making Process (I)	132
Controlling Discretion	132
Judicial Review of Discretion	138
8. The Decision-Making Process (II)	160
General Introduction	160
Theoretical Considerations	163
The Rules of Natural Justice	170
The Effect of Breach of Natural Justice	190
Natural Justice and the Function of Judicial Review	191
Statutory Procedural Requirements	192
Public Local Inquiries	199
9. The Output	208
Unreasonableness in a Narrow Sense	208
Unreasonableness in a Broad Sense	212
Other Grounds of Challenge	215
10. Estoppel	218
Introduction	218
Estoppel as an Exception to the Doctrine of Ultra Vires	219
Estoppel and Intra Vires Decisions	228

PART II. RULES AND PRINCIPLES OF LEGAL LIABILITY

11.	Introduction	233
	A General Principle	233
	The Definition of the Crown	236
	The Application of Statutory Provisions to Fringe Bodies	237
12.	Liability in Tort	241
	The Basic Principle	241
	The Policy-Operational Distinction	241
	The Current Status of the Policy-Operational Distinction	249
	Misfeasance in a Public Office	253
13.	Government Contracts	255
	The Basic Principle	255
	Precontractual Negotiations and the Making of Contracts	255
	The Funding of Central Government Contracts	261
	The Law of Agency	262
	Government Employment	262
	Liability for Breach of Contract	263
	Ultra Vires and Liability for Breach of Contract	267
	The Effect of a Plea of Public Policy	268
14.	Restitution	270

PART III. INFORMATION

15.	Information and Litigation	277
	Pre-Trial Information-Gathering	277
	Crown Privilege or Public-Interest Immunity?	278
	Inspection to Determine Relevance	280
	Inspection to Determine Immunity	281
	Class and Contents Claims	283
	Confidentiality	284
16.	Government Secrecy and Freedom of Information	287
	Protection of Sources	287
	Breach of Confidence	289

Freedom of Information Legislation	291
Access to Personal Information	293

PART IV. ALTERNATIVES TO THE COURTS

17. Parliament	297
The Constitutional Functions of Parliament	297
18. Investigating Complaints	307
The Parliamentary Commissioner for Administration	307
The PCA and Parliament	309
The PCA's Jurisdiction	311
The PCA and Remedies for Maladministration	312
The PCA and the Courts	313
Other Commissioners for Administration	319
The Value of Investigatory Techniques	322
19. Tribunals	325
Tribunals, Courts, Discretion, and Rules	326
The Independence of Tribunals	328
Tribunal Procedure	331
Differences between Tribunals and Courts	333
The Structure of the Tribunal 'System'	335

PART V. WIDER PERSPECTIVES ON JUDICIAL CONTROL

20. Constitutional and Political Background	339
The Constitutional Background	339
The Political Background	353
Theory and Practice	366
21. Judicial Review and the Administrative Process	368
Judicial Review and Good Administration	368
What is Good Administration	374
Promoting Good Administration	374
Conclusion	383
Index	385