

Contents

Prologue	xi
1. Consciousness in Evolution	1
Demons and memes	3
Questions of definition	4
Building our own demons	7
How this book is organized	8
2. The Paradox of Consciousness	13
A limited instrument	14
Minimalist people	16
The ultimate form of deconstruction	19
The tunnel of consciousness	21
The paradox of paradoxes	25
Hardliners	28
Radical presumption	31
Even more radical presumption	35
Dennett's dangerous idea	39
Conclusion	44
3. The Governor of Mental Life	46
The time frame of awareness	47
Confusion over automaticity	57
The clinical view: Consciousness and self-governance	59
An aggressive, interventionist consciousness: A case history	70
Zasetsky's mirror twins	76
A literary view	78
Vertical depth and unity: The true reach of metacognition	83
Internalization and solipsistic awareness	87
Changing our model	88

4. The Consciousness Club

- The materiality of mind
- Eliminating the scale problem
- Vestigial brains, not so vestigial minds
- Avoiding the scala naturae
- Defining the domain
- The Consciousness Club
- Bringing extra resources to bear
- Embodiment, egocenters, and homunculi
- The Executive Suite: Defining the primate “zone of proximal evolution”

5. Three Levels of Basic Awareness

- The myth of the isolated mind
- The great computational divide
- The dawn of hybrid mind: Access to memory
- Models of models and the tertiary regions
- Chasing phantoms
- Level-1 awareness: Selective binding
- Level-2 awareness: Short-term control
- Level-3 awareness: Intermediate- and long-term governance
- Episodic awareness
- Entertaining a radical possibility

6. Condillac's Statue

- Minds in motion
- Superplasticity
- The Third Man: Deep enculturation
- The much-misunderstood Statue and the birth of Constructivism
- Mandler's dictum
- The extraordinary mind of Helen Keller
- Contact
- Outside-Inside

7. The First Hybrid Minds on Earth

- Abandoning solipsism
- Consciousness and community of mind

The cultural relevance of a multifocal, multilayered consciousness	257
The stages of human cultural and cognitive evolution	259
The first transition: Establishing the mimetic framework of human culture	262
The germ of self-consciousness	269
Kinematic imagination	271
The second transition: The spiraling coevolution of thought and symbol	274
Piggybacking language on culture	279
Our cerebral boxing match with the cultural matrix	285
The management of idea-laundering schemes	287
Symbolic invention and the growth of the lexicon	290
The virtual realities of oral-mythic culture	295
Collectivity of mind	298
 8. The Triumph of Consciousness	 301
The third transition: The invention of symbolic technologies	305
A Mirror of Consciousness: The external memory field	308
A cerebral Trojan Horse	315
Multilayered cultures, multilayered domains of awareness	320
The essential unity of the conscious hierarchy	322
Coda	324
 Notes	 327
References	345
Acknowledgments	363
Index	365