

Contents

List of Tables	xi
List of Contributors	xii
Acknowledgments	xiii
Contexts of Constitutionalizing Transitional Justice: An Introduction	1
CHENG-YI HUANG
PART 1
Constitutional Origins of Transitional Justice	19
1 The Dilemmas of Transitional Justice and the South African Experience	21
RICHARD J. GOLDSTONE
2 Facing the Shadows of the Past during Transitions: The Role of the Constitutions in the Case of Hungary	38
KRISZTA KOVÁCS
3 Constitutional Divergence and Transitional Justice in South Korea and Taiwan	57
CHENG-YI HUANG AND YI-LI LEE
PART 2
Constitutional Process of Transitional Justice	95
4 Constitutional Justice and Negotiated Peace in Colombia	97
NELSON CAMILO SÁNCHEZ LEÓN

5	Constitutions, Courts, and the Quest for Transitional Justice: The Case of Chile	115
	JAVIER COUSO
6	Coordinated Transition in East-Central Europe and the Role of Constitutional Courts in Transitional Justice: Experiences from Hungary and Moldova	131
	GÁBOR ATTILA TÓTH
7	The Determinants of the Polish Transformation at the Turn of the 21st Century: In View of the Judgments of the Constitutional Tribunal of Poland	153
	MAREK ZUBIK
PART 3
	Constitutional Consequences of Transitional Justice	171
8	Transitional Justice in a 19th-Century Constitution: Cautionary Observations from the United States	173
	VICKI C. JACKSON AND HARRY LARSON
9	“Cadres” in Post-communist Transition: Shifting the Loyalty Standards in Public Service after Regime Change	198
	ANNA ŚLEDZIŃSKA-SIMON
10	Between Blaming and Naming: Constitutional Review of Bans on Communist Parties in Post-Soviet States	222
	ALEXEI TROCHEV
	Index	249