

Contents

Editor's note	page	xi
List of abbreviations		xiii
Introduction		xv
Principal events in Bernstein's life		xxxvii
Bibliographical note		xxxix
Biographical notes		xlii
Foreword		1
1 The basic tenets of Marxist socialism		9
(a) The scientific elements of Marxism		9
(b) The materialist conception of history and historical necessity		12
(c) The Marxist doctrine of class conflict and the development of capital		22
2 Marxism and the Hegelian dialectic		29
(a) The pitfalls of the Hegelian dialectical method		29
(b) Marxism and Blanquism		36
3 The economic development of modern society		47
(a) Remarks on the meaning of Marx's theory of value		47
(b) The distribution of income in modern society		56
(c) Occupational classes in the production and distribution of social wealth		66
(d) Crises and the ability of the modern economy to adapt		79

Contents

---

4 The tasks and opportunities of Social Democracy	98
(a) The political and economic prerequisites of socialism	98
(b) The effectiveness of economic cooperatives	110
(c) Democracy and socialism	136
(d) The most immediate tasks of Social Democracy	159
Conclusion	189
Index	211