

CONTENTS

Preface, 11

Illustrations, 13

Introduction, 21

The Origins of Tea as a Way, 23

Shinkei's Aesthetic of Chill and Withered, 37

The Beauty of Moon amid Clouds: Murata Jukō, 63

The Wabi Ideal of Takeno Jōō, 80

The Legacy of Rikyū (I): Zen and the Way of Tea, 92

The Legacy of Rikyū (II): A Pure Land Buddhist
Perspective, 105

Conclusion: Chanoyu as Path, 116

---

The Literary Background of the Way of Tea

On the Practice of Linked Verse:

Shinkei's Sasamegoto, 133

Words Spoken Alone, 170

Master Shinkei's Instruction, 171

Three Poets at Yuyama: A Leaf

from a Renga Sequence, 175

Twelve Poems from the Zen Masters, 188

---

The Beginnings of the Way of Tea

Heart's Mastery: Murata Jukō's Letter to

Furuichi Harima, 195

In Response to Questions, 199

Chanoyu as the Life of Wabi: Ten Points of Attention for Practitioners of Tea, 200

Further Points of Attention, 203

Letter on Wabi, 207

Jōō's Admonitions for Disciples, 210

---

The Legacy of Rikyū

Record of the Words of Rikyū:

Selections from Nampōroku, 215

Zen Rules for the Roji, 240

The One-Page Testament of Rikyū, 242

Pointing to the Moon:

Sōtan's Anecdotes of Rikyū's Tea, 246

The Zen Tea Record of Jakuan Sōtaku, 261

After Rikyū: Tea of the Daimyō, 287

---

A Modern Tea Master's Understanding of the Practice of Tea

Hamamoto Sōshun: On the Ten Oxherding Pictures,
with a translation of the Zen text, 297

Notes to the Documents, 349

Index, 377