

Acknowledgements	ix
List of Contributors	xiii

Introduction: Out of Time or the Unpredictability of Disability	1
--	---

ELENA BACKHAUSEN, BENJAMIN WIHSTUTZ AND NOA WINTER

PART I

Crip Time in Pandemic Time	11
-----------------------------------	----

1 Our Bodies Are the Archive: Crip Time in Pandemic Time and the Materiality of Disability Performance	13
---	----

CARRIE SANDAHL

2 Disability Culture in a Time of Pandemic	22
---	----

JESS THOM

3 On Imperfect Flow: Dis/ability Performance in Times of Pandemic	31
--	----

BENJAMIN WIHSTUTZ

4 Crip Time	55
--------------------	----

PETRA KUPPERS

PART II

Dramaturgies of Crip Time	59
----------------------------------	----

5 Dance, Disability, and Keeping “In Time” on Strictly	61
--	----

SARAH WHATLEY

6 Off-Beat Bodies: Crip Choreography's Temporal Politicality	79
MICHAEL TURINSKY
7 Imposed Tactlessness: Cursory Considerations on the Beyond of Normative Time	87
SANDRA UMATHUM
8 Kairos Reconfigured: The Rhetoric of Learning Disabled Actors Stepping In and Out of Theatrical Time	97
TONY McCAFFREY
9 On the Temporality of Stuttering	112
ELENA BACKHAUSEN
10 Time-Bound Yet Time-Less: Performing Crip Time at Blind Opera and Anyadesh	138
RAJDEEP KONAR
11 I Fall to Pieces	154
KAITE O'REILLY
PART III
Crip Time and Futurity	165
12 Future Clinic for Critical Care: MOTHER – Exploring Crip Maternal Time in the Theatre	167
NINA MÜHLEMANN
13 As Stiff Grew Stiffer: Theoretical and Practical Applications of Theatrical Crip Time and Four-Dimensional Dramaturgy	176
JOHN MICHAEL SEFEL AND RACHAEL HERREN
14 Crip Time and the Creative Process: Choreography and Performance as Sites for Exploring “Normative” and “Crip” Time and the Disabled Dance-Maker	193
KATE MARSH
15 The Potential and Poetics of Rest	203
RAQUEL MESEGUER ZAFE
Index	213