

---

Contents

---

List of figures, tables and boxes	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
Introduction	1
1 What can we know and how can we know it?	6
2 Thinking geographically	28
3 Thinking geographically: interconnection	51
4 Thinking geographically: place	69
5 Thinking geographically: space	95
6 Thinking geographically: environment	121
7 The analytical concepts: scale and time	160
8 The evaluative concepts: sustainability and human wellbeing	183
9 Teaching for conceptual understanding	205
10 Land cover change: have we cleared too much of the earth's vegetation?	219

11 Unequal places: should governments try to reduce regional inequalities?	247
12 Conclusion	273
Index	277