Part One NATIONAL REPORTS

| | |
|--|----|
| AUSTRIA by Heinz Schäffer | 49 |
| INTRODUCTION | 49 |
| A. Data selection and data basis | 49 |
| 1. The need for a twofold calculation | 49 |
| 2. Selection of the analysed member-state | 50 |
| 3. Consequences for the analysis of unconsidered sources | 50 |
| B. Creators of norms and publication organs | 51 |
| 1. Creators of norms | 51 |
| 2. Matters of publication | 52 |
| C. Quantitative analysis – Methods of evaluation | 56 |
| 1. Static analysis | 56 |
| 2. Dynamic analysis | 60 |
| D. General problems of the analysis | 60 |
| 1. Problems of classification | 60 |
| 2. Annexes | 60 |
| 3. Re-publication | 61 |
| 4. Original norms and amending norms | 61 |
| 5. Basic acts and acts of application | 61 |
| 6. Sources of law of international origin | 61 |
| 7. Smallest juridical units | 62 |
| I. STATIC ANALYSIS | 62 |
| A. Federal law | 62 |
| 1. Volume of the legal order (number of generally binding normative acts valid at the key-date) | 63 |
| 2. Modernity of the federal law (number of valid normative acts according to their age) | 63 |

| | | |
|-----|--|-----|
| 3. | Allocation of the regulation responsibilities (number of normative acts, valid at the key-date, according to the position in the hierarchy of norms) | 68 |
| 4. | Original acts and amending acts | 72 |
| 5. | The international impact on the national legal system (number of normative acts by which the national treaties and agreements – valid at the key-date – are published) | 75 |
| B. | State law | 75 |
| 1. | Number of generally binding normative acts being in force at the key-date | 76 |
| 2. | Number of valid normative acts according to their age | 78 |
| 3. | Number of effective normative acts according to their position in the hierarchy of norms | 79 |
| 4. | Numerical proportion between original acts and amending acts | 80 |
| II. | DYNAMIC ANALYSIS | 82 |
| A. | Federal law | 82 |
| 1. | Number and volume of the generally binding normative acts within the period of inquiry (1968-1980) | 84 |
| 2. | Number and volume of law-making acts according to the different types of sources of law | 90 |
| 3. | Numerical proportion between original acts and amending acts | 95 |
| 4. | Numerical proportion between basic acts and acts of application | 96 |
| 5. | Number and volume of normative acts, by which international treaties and agreements are published | 97 |
| 6. | Number and volume of normative acts creating only authorisations and obligations for public organs, though of general legal importance | 98 |
| B. | State law | 100 |
| 1. | Number and volume of generally binding normative acts in the period of inquiry (1968-1980) | 100 |
| 2. | Number and volume of the generally binding normative acts according to the different types of sources of law | 104 |
| 3. | Numerical proportion between original acts and amending acts in the state law (LGB1 Carinthia) | 107 |
| 4. | Numerical proportion between basic and application acts in the state law (Land Law Gazette of Carinthia) | 108 |
| 5. | Number and volume of normative acts which are of general relevance although not containing generally binding rules of conduct | 109 |

| | | |
|------|---|-----|
| III. | GENERAL COMMENTS | 111 |
| A. | Analysis of the situation – Is there a "flood of norms"? | 111 |
| 1. | Different levels of the administration and norm production | 111 |
| 2. | Main sectors of norm production | 113 |
| 3. | Hierarchy of norms | 114 |
| 4. | About the nature of the norms | 115 |
| 5. | About the origin of the norms | 116 |
| B. | An estimation of the situation | 117 |
| C. | The reasons for the phenomenon: "flood of laws" | 118 |
| 1. | Objective factors | 118 |
| 2. | Psychological and sociological factors | 121 |
| 3. | Pathological factors | 123 |
| D. | Consequences of the "flood of norms" | 124 |

|------|--|-----|
| I. | INTRODUCTION | 133 |
| II. | STATIC ANALYSIS | 134 |
| 1. | Number and volume of normative acts emanating from a central authority creating (formally) a new rule | 134 |
| 2. | Number and volume of normative acts according to their date of origin (by year) | 142 |
| 3. | Number and volume of normative acts in force according to their place in the hierarchy of the sources of law | 146 |
| 4. | Numerical proportion of normative acts introducing a new rule as compared with normative acts modifying an existing rule | 149 |
| 5. | Treaties and international agreements | 152 |
| 6. | Informal acts | 154 |
| III. | DYNAMIC ANALYSIS | 154 |
| 1. | Number and volume of normative acts | 154 |
| 2. | Number and volume of acts according to their place in the hierarchy of the sources of law | 155 |
| 3. | Numerical proportion of normative acts introducing new rules as compared with normative acts modifying existing rules | 161 |
| 4. | Numerical proportion of normative acts containing basic regulations as compared with normative acts graded as texts of application | 162 |

| | | |
|-----|--|-----|
| 5. | Treaties and international agreements | 163 |
| 6. | Number of normative acts which, containing no general and obligatory rule of conduct, have nevertheless a general impact | 164 |
| IV. | GENERAL COMMENTS ON THE QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS | 164 |
| 1. | General philosophy of the French legal system. Repartition of powers | 164 |
| 2. | The type of source of law quantitatively the most important in the French legal system | 165 |
| 3. | Main characteristics of legislative technique | 166 |
| 4. | Area of law in which reform of legislation is most important | 167 |
| 5. | Average life-span of normative acts | 167 |
