

Contents

Part 1: Introduction

I. ANALYSIS AND GENERAL THEORY	3
1. Introduction	3
2. The Route from Analysis to Theory	4
3. Conceptual Analysis	8
(1) The Directions of Conceptual Analysis	8
(2) Virtuous Stipulation	13
(3) Relationships Between Concepts	16
(4) Analytical and Normative Approaches	19

Part 2: Analysing Rights

II. RIGHTS AND LIBERTIES, AND HOHFELD'S FUNDAMENTAL CONCEPTIONS	27
1. Introduction	27
2. Hohfeld's Fundamental Legal Conceptions	28
3. Opposites	32
4. Hohfeld's Privilege – As Opposite of Duty	33
5. Hohfeld's Privilege – As Protecting Rights	37
6. Hohfeld's Privilege – Conclusion	41
7. Hohfeld's Other Conceptions	43
8. Conclusion	47
III. THE CONCEPT OF A LEGAL POWER	49
1. Introduction	49
2. The Approaches of Hohfeld and Bentham	51
(1) Hart on Bentham	51
(2) Bentham Reinterpreted	54
(3) Bentham and Hohfeld	57
3. Powers, Decisions and Conditions	60
(1) The Feature of Decision	60
(2) Making Decisions, Fulfilling Conditions	61
(3) The Significance of Decisions	65
4. Legal Powers and Legal Rights	68
(1) Decision or Choice?	68

(2) Choice or Interest?	69
(3) The Significance of Decision	72
IV. RIGHTS AND CLAIMS	74
1. Introduction	74
2. The Analysis of Claims	74
(1) White's Idea of a Claim	74
(2) The Validity and Strength of Claims	81
(3) Two Kinds of Claims	89
3. Different Kinds of Rights	90
4. Rights and Claims	94
 Part 3: Discussing Rights
V. A FRAMEWORK FOR DISCUSSING RIGHTS	105
1. Introduction	105
2. Materials for a Framework	106
(1) The Nature of Man	106
General Principles I & II	107
(2) The Nature of Society	107
(1) Conflict between Members of a Society	108
(2) Conflict between the Individual and Society	111
General Principle III	113
(3) Ideal Rights and Policy Rights	114
(4) The Regulation of Disputes	116
(5) The Instantiation of Abstract Rights	120
General Principles IV & V	122
3. Constructing the Framework	123
Tables 1–9	130
VI. APPLYING THE FRAMEWORK	137
1. Introduction	137
2. Rights in the Tort of Negligence	138
(1) Donoghue v Stevenson	138
(2) Subsequent Development in Hedley Byrne v Heller	142
(3) Further Developments	150
(4) Some General Observations	153
3. The Right to Free Speech	159
4. Broader Issues	165
VII. NEW RIGHTS FOR OLD?	175
1. Introduction	175
2. Unger on Traditional Rights	176
(1) The Sociohistorical Account of Traditional Rights	176

(2) The Analysis of the Right Holder's Position	178
3. Unger's New Rights	179
(1) Introduction	179
(2) Immunity Rights	180
(3) Destabilization Rights	183
(4) Market Rights	188
(5) Solidarity Rights	189
4. Concluding Remarks	192

Part 4: Arguing with Rights

VIII. RIGHTS, UTILITARIANISM AND MORALITY 1: SOME PRELIMINARY OBSERVATIONS	199
1. Introduction	199
2. Some Preliminary Observations	203
(1) The Moral Arena	203
(2) Moral Theories and Moral Approaches	204
(3) Three Central Aspects of Morality	206
(4) The Usage of Rights	210
(5) Deontological and Teleological Approaches	216
(1) The Role of Consequences	217
(2) The Right and the Good	221
(3) The Maximisation of the Good	224
IX. RIGHTS, UTILITARIANISM AND MORALITY 2: FOUR THEORISTS	227
1. Bentham	227
2. Dworkin	232
3. Rawls	235
4. Nozick	241
5. General Comments	250
6. The Wider Debate	252
7. Conclusions	255
(1) Utilitarianism	255
(2) Rights	256
(3) The Moral Conundrum	257

Part 5: Conclusion

X. SOME GENERAL REFLECTIONS	261
Bibliography	267
Index	279