

Contents

Part I Introduction

1	The Roman Heritage	3
2	Bonus Theoreticus, Malus Practicus?	9
	Two Classics	9
	Toward Modern DSL	11
	The Dual Nature of DSL	16
3	What Is the Doctrinal Study of Law?	19
	The Definition	19
	DSL and Adjudication	19
	DSL and Sociology	22

Part II The Foundations of Legal Thinking

4	Lawyer’s Dilemma	27
5	On Language-Games	31
	Learning Language	31
	Language-Games	32
	On Family Resemblance	34
	Social Dimension of Language	35
	Direct Experiences and Feelings	36
	Form of Life	37
6	The Foundations of Knowledge	39
	On Certainty	39
	The Final Foundations of Knowledge	40
	The Role of the Form of Life	42
7	On the Ontology of Law	45
	The Standard View	45
	On the Conventionalist Theory	47
	Institutional Legal Theory	48
	On Shared Mutual Beliefs	50

8	A Moral Point of View	53
	Starting Point	53
	Moral Foundation of Law	54
	Moral Foundations of Legal Reasoning	57
	On Moderate Value Relativism	57
	Prima Facie vs. all Things Considered	59
	Summary	62
9	The Three Notions of Liberty	65
	The Traditional View	65
	The Third Notion of Liberty	66
	Summary	69
 Part III Between Realism and Idealism
10	What Is Science?	73
	A Positivistic View	73
	On the Criteria of Science	73
	Further Analysis	75
	Summary	76
11	Legal Realism Reinterpreted	81
	Alf Ross and the Scandinavian Realism	81
	Ross as a Logical Empiricist	83
	Realist Ross	84
	What Is Law?	85
	On the Ideological Element of the Rossian Theory	88
	A Critical View	90
	Ross and Hermeneutics	94
12	Outlines of the New Rhetoric	95
	On the Background	95
	The Greek Rhetoric	97
	The Return of Rhetoric	99
	The Idea of New Rhetoric	100
	Rhetoric and the Argumentation Theory	103
13	Scientific Inference – An Example	105
	Out of the Cave	105
	Origin	107
	Content	107
	The Interpretation of Archaeological Findings	107
	The Structure of Reasoning	109
	What About the Legal Reasoning?	112

Part IV On the Doctrinal Study of Law

14	From the Constitutional State to the Welfare State	117
15	Two Types of Norms	119
	Starting Point	119
	On the Strong Demarcation Thesis	119
	Weak Demarcation Thesis	120
	A Step Further	122
16	The Formal Validity, Efficacy, and Acceptability of Legal Norms .	125
	On the Lexical Meaning of Validity	125
	Formal Validity	125
	Efficacy	128
	Axiological Validity	129
17	The Procedure of Legal Reasoning	131
	On the Notion of Interpretation	131
	Meaning Propositions	131
	On Justification	133
	Internal Justification	134
	External Justification	134
	The Structure of External Justification	137
	On the Notion of Rationality	139
	The Preconditions of Rational Legal Discourse	142
	On Coherence	144
18	The Sources of Law	147
	The Doctrine of the Sources of Law	147
	The Normative Status of the Sources of Law	150
	Strongly Binding Sources	151
	The Statutes	151
	Non-national Sources of Law	152
	Weakly Binding Sources of Law	153
	The Intention of the Legislator	154
	Precedents	158
	Permitted Sources	160
	Consequential Inference	161
	On principles as the Source of Law	162
19	One Right Answer?	165
	Final and Right Answer	165
	Hercules J	166
	Acceptance and Acceptability	170
	Majority Principle	172

20 On the Systematisation 177
The Need for Systematisation 177
The Theories in Law 178
Reformulation of the System 179

21 Change or Development? 185
The Standard View 185
Outlines of the Kuhnian Model 185
Kuhn and the Social Sciences 191
Matrix of DSL 192
Theoretical and Practical DSL 195
Change – How and When? 196

Bibliography 201

Name Index 215

Subject Index 219