CONTENTS

3. The Rejection of Empirico-Positivism: Ontological Arguments 4. The Necessity of Efficacy 5. The Sufficiency of Efficacy 6. Conclusion  2. Legal Positivism and the Separability Thesis 1. Introduction 2. The Separability Thesis: The Common Core Interpretation 3. The Separability Thesis: The Explanatory Interpretation 4. Re-Examining the Jurisprudential Antinomy  3. Reductionism and the Analysis of Institutions 4. Introduction 2. Methodological Individualism and Reductionism 3. Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory 4. New Institutionalism and Institutions 5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism 6. Conclusion  4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game 1. Introduction 2. Game Theory and Rights 3. The Legal-Political Game 4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems 5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question 6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism	Acknowledgements
1. Legal Positivism and the Normativity Thesis  1. Introduction  2. The Rejection of Empirico-Positivism: Methodological Arguments  3. The Rejection of Empirico-Positivism: Ontological Arguments  4. The Necessity of Efficacy  5. The Sufficiency of Efficacy  6. Conclusion  2. Legal Positivism and the Separability Thesis  1. Introduction  2. The Separability Thesis: The Common Core Interpretation  3. The Separability Thesis: The Explanatory Interpretation  4. Re-Examining the Jurisprudential Antinomy  3. Reductionism and the Analysis of Institutions  1. Introduction  2. Methodological Individualism and Reductionism  3. Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory  4. New Institutionalism and Institutions  5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism  6. Conclusion  4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game  1. Introduction  2. Game Theory and Rights  3. The Legal-Political Game  4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems  5. Legal Validity and Legal Systems  5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question  6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism	Introduction
1. Introduction 2. The Rejection of Empirico-Positivism: Methodological Arguments 3. The Rejection of Empirico-Positivism: Ontological Arguments 4. The Necessity of Efficacy 5. The Sufficiency of Efficacy 6. Conclusion  2. Legal Positivism and the Separability Thesis 1. Introduction 2. The Separability Thesis: The Common Core Interpretation 3. The Separability Thesis: The Explanatory Interpretation 4. Re-Examining the Jurisprudential Antinomy  3. Reductionism and the Analysis of Institutions 4. Introduction 2. Methodological Individualism and Reductionism 3. Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory 4. New Institutionalism and Institutions 5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism 6. Conclusion  4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game 1. Introduction 2. Game Theory and Rights 3. The Legal-Political Game 4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems 5. Legal Validity and Legal Systems 5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question 6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism	Par	t 1 Legal Reductionism
2. The Rejection of Empirico-Positivism: Methodological Arguments 3. The Rejection of Empirico-Positivism: Ontological Arguments 4. The Necessity of Efficacy 5. The Sufficiency of Efficacy 6. Conclusion 2. Legal Positivism and the Separability Thesis 2. Introduction 2. The Separability Thesis: The Common Core Interpretation 3. The Separability Thesis: The Explanatory Interpretation 4. Re-Examining the Jurisprudential Antinomy 3. Reductionism and the Analysis of Institutions 4. Introduction 2. Methodological Individualism and Reductionism 3. Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory 4. New Institutionalism and Institutions 5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism 6. Conclusion 4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game 6. Introduction 7. Game Theory and Rights 7. The Legal-Political Game 7. Legal Validity and Legal Systems 7. Legal Validity and Legal Systems 7. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question 7. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism	1.	Legal Positivism and the Normativity Thesis	9
3. The Rejection of Empirico-Positivism: Ontological Arguments 4. The Necessity of Efficacy 5. The Sufficiency of Efficacy 6. Conclusion  2. Legal Positivism and the Separability Thesis 1. Introduction 2. The Separability Thesis: The Common Core Interpretation 3. The Separability Thesis: The Explanatory Interpretation 4. Re-Examining the Jurisprudential Antinomy  3. Reductionism and the Analysis of Institutions 4. Introduction 2. Methodological Individualism and Reductionism 3. Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory 4. New Institutionalism and Institutions 5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism 6. Conclusion  4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game 1. Introduction 2. Game Theory and Rights 3. The Legal-Political Game 4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems 5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question 6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism		1. Introduction	9
4. The Necessity of Efficacy 5. The Sufficiency of Efficacy 6. Conclusion  2. Legal Positivism and the Separability Thesis 1. Introduction 2. The Separability Thesis: The Common Core Interpretation 3. The Separability Thesis: The Explanatory Interpretation 4. Re-Examining the Jurisprudential Antinomy  3. Reductionism and the Analysis of Institutions 4. Introduction 2. Methodological Individualism and Reductionism 3. Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory 4. New Institutionalism and Institutions 5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism 6. Conclusion  4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game 1. Introduction 2. Game Theory and Rights 3. The Legal-Political Game 4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems 5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question 6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism		2. The Rejection of Empirico-Positivism: Methodological Arguments	12
5. The Sufficiency of Efficacy 6. Conclusion  2. Legal Positivism and the Separability Thesis 2. The Separability Thesis: The Common Core Interpretation 3. The Separability Thesis: The Explanatory Interpretation 4. Re-Examining the Jurisprudential Antinomy  3. Reductionism and the Analysis of Institutions 4. Introduction 2. Methodological Individualism and Reductionism 3. Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory 4. New Institutionalism and Institutions 5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism 6. Conclusion  4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game 1. Introduction 2. Game Theory and Rights 3. The Legal-Political Game 4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems 5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question 6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism		3. The Rejection of Empirico-Positivism: Ontological Arguments	14
6. Conclusion  2. Legal Positivism and the Separability Thesis  1. Introduction 2. The Separability Thesis: The Common Core Interpretation 3. The Separability Thesis: The Explanatory Interpretation 4. Re-Examining the Jurisprudential Antinomy  3. Reductionism and the Analysis of Institutions 4. Introduction 2. Methodological Individualism and Reductionism 3. Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory 4. New Institutionalism and Institutions 5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism 6. Conclusion  4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game 1. Introduction 2. Game Theory and Rights 3. The Legal-Political Game 4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems 5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question 6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism			19
2. Legal Positivism and the Separability Thesis  1. Introduction 2. The Separability Thesis: The Common Core Interpretation 3. The Separability Thesis: The Explanatory Interpretation 4. Re-Examining the Jurisprudential Antinomy  3. Reductionism and the Analysis of Institutions 4. Introduction 2. Methodological Individualism and Reductionism 3. Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory 4. New Institutionalism and Institutions 5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism 6. Conclusion  4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game 1. Introduction 2. Game Theory and Rights 3. The Legal-Political Game 4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems 5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question 6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism			22
1. Introduction 2. The Separability Thesis: The Common Core Interpretation 3. The Separability Thesis: The Explanatory Interpretation 4. Re-Examining the Jurisprudential Antinomy  3. Reductionism and the Analysis of Institutions 4. Introduction 2. Methodological Individualism and Reductionism 3. Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory 4. New Institutionalism and Institutions 5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism 6. Conclusion  4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game 1. Introduction 2. Game Theory and Rights 3. The Legal-Political Game 4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems 5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question 6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism		6. Conclusion	25
1. Introduction 2. The Separability Thesis: The Common Core Interpretation 3. The Separability Thesis: The Explanatory Interpretation 4. Re-Examining the Jurisprudential Antinomy  3. Reductionism and the Analysis of Institutions 4. Introduction 2. Methodological Individualism and Reductionism 3. Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory 4. New Institutionalism and Institutions 5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism 6. Conclusion  4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game 1. Introduction 2. Game Theory and Rights 3. The Legal-Political Game 4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems 5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question 6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism		T 1 T 1 .1 1 .1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1
2. The Separability Thesis: The Common Core Interpretation 3. The Separability Thesis: The Explanatory Interpretation 4. Re-Examining the Jurisprudential Antinomy 4. Re-Examining the Jurisprudential Antinomy 4. Reductionism and the Analysis of Institutions 4. Introduction 2. Methodological Individualism and Reductionism 3. Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory 4. New Institutionalism and Institutions 5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism 6. Conclusion 4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game 1. Introduction 2. Game Theory and Rights 3. The Legal-Political Game 4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems 5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question 6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism	2.	Legal Positivism and the Separability Thesis	27
3. The Separability Thesis: The Explanatory Interpretation 4. Re-Examining the Jurisprudential Antinomy  3. Reductionism and the Analysis of Institutions 4. Introduction 2. Methodological Individualism and Reductionism 3. Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory 4. New Institutionalism and Institutions 5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism 6. Conclusion  4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game 1. Introduction 2. Game Theory and Rights 3. The Legal-Political Game 4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems 5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question 6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism		1. Introduction	27
4. Re-Examining the Jurisprudential Antinomy  3. Reductionism and the Analysis of Institutions  1. Introduction  2. Methodological Individualism and Reductionism  3. Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory  4. New Institutionalism and Institutions  5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism  6. Conclusion  4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game  1. Introduction  2. Game Theory and Rights  3. The Legal-Political Game  4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems  5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question  6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism		2. The Separability Thesis: The Common Core Interpretation	31
3. Reductionism and the Analysis of Institutions  1. Introduction 2. Methodological Individualism and Reductionism 3. Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory 4. New Institutionalism and Institutions 5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism 6. Conclusion  4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game 1. Introduction 2. Game Theory and Rights 3. The Legal-Political Game 4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems 5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question 6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism			36
1. Introduction 2. Methodological Individualism and Reductionism 3. Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory 4. New Institutionalism and Institutions 5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism 6. Conclusion  4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game  1. Introduction 2. Game Theory and Rights 3. The Legal-Political Game 4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems 5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question 6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism		4. Re-Examining the Jurisprudential Antinomy	40
<ol> <li>Methodological Individualism and Reductionism</li> <li>Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory</li> <li>New Institutionalism and Institutions</li> <li>New Institutionalism and Reductionism</li> <li>Conclusion</li> <li>Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game</li> <li>Introduction</li> <li>Game Theory and Rights</li> <li>The Legal-Political Game</li> <li>Legal Validity and Legal Systems</li> <li>Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question</li> <li>The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism</li> </ol>	3.	Reductionism and the Analysis of Institutions	45
<ol> <li>Methodological Individualism and Reductionism</li> <li>Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory</li> <li>New Institutionalism and Institutions</li> <li>New Institutionalism and Reductionism</li> <li>Conclusion</li> <li>Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game</li> <li>Introduction</li> <li>Game Theory and Rights</li> <li>The Legal-Political Game</li> <li>Legal Validity and Legal Systems</li> <li>Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question</li> <li>The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism</li> </ol>		1 Introduction	45
<ol> <li>Methodological Individualism Illustrated: Game Theory</li> <li>New Institutionalism and Institutions</li> <li>New Institutionalism and Reductionism</li> <li>Conclusion</li> <li>Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game</li> <li>Introduction</li> <li>Game Theory and Rights</li> <li>The Legal-Political Game</li> <li>Legal Validity and Legal Systems</li> <li>Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question</li> <li>The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism</li> </ol>			46
<ul> <li>4. New Institutionalism and Institutions</li> <li>5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism</li> <li>6. Conclusion</li> <li>4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game</li> <li>1. Introduction</li> <li>2. Game Theory and Rights</li> <li>3. The Legal-Political Game</li> <li>4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems</li> <li>5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question</li> <li>6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism</li> </ul>			49
5. New Institutionalism and Reductionism 6. Conclusion  4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game 1. Introduction 2. Game Theory and Rights 3. The Legal-Political Game 4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems 5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question 6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism			53
<ul> <li>6. Conclusion</li> <li>4. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game</li> <li>1. Introduction</li> <li>2. Game Theory and Rights</li> <li>3. The Legal-Political Game</li> <li>4. Legal Validity and Legal Systems</li> <li>5. Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question</li> <li>6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism</li> </ul>			55
<ol> <li>Introduction</li> <li>Game Theory and Rights</li> <li>The Legal-Political Game</li> <li>Legal Validity and Legal Systems</li> <li>Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question</li> <li>The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism</li> </ol>			59
<ol> <li>Game Theory and Rights</li> <li>The Legal-Political Game</li> <li>Legal Validity and Legal Systems</li> <li>Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question</li> <li>The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism</li> </ol>	4.	. Legal Systems, Rights and the Legal-Political Game
<ol> <li>Game Theory and Rights</li> <li>The Legal-Political Game</li> <li>Legal Validity and Legal Systems</li> <li>Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question</li> <li>The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism</li> </ol>		1 Introduction	61
<ol> <li>The Legal-Political Game</li> <li>Legal Validity and Legal Systems</li> <li>Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question</li> <li>The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism</li> </ol>			62
<ol> <li>Legal Validity and Legal Systems</li> <li>Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question</li> <li>The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism</li> </ol>			66
<ol> <li>Legal Validity and the Constitutional Question</li> <li>The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism</li> </ol>			73
6. The Institutional Theory of Law and Reductionism			76
			79
/. The Institutional Theory of Law and Legal Reductionism		7. The Institutional Theory of Law and Legal Reductionism	82

Part 2 Legal Reductionism Applied: The Analysis of Legal Freedom

5.	Legal Freedom: Concept and Contents	87
	1. Introduction	87
	2. Conceptions of Freedom and the Triadic Structure	89
	3. Legal Freedom: The Agents	90
	4. Legal Freedom: The Constraints	93
	5. Legal Freedom: The Objectives	96
	6. Prevention and Intervention	98
6.	Freedom of Choice	105
	1. Introduction	105
	2. The Simple Counting Rule	106
	3. The Introduction of Preferences	108
	4. Freedom and Preferences	112
	5. Similarity and Dissimilarity	116
	6. Monotonicity and Technological Changes	121
7.	Conditions of Legal Freedom	, 125
	1. Introduction	125
	2. Carter's Measure of Empirical Freedom	126
	3. Strategies and Opportunity Sets	135
	4. A Measure of Legal Freedom and Some Problems	136
	5. Strong Monotonicity and Dominance	140
	6. Dominance and Equality	145
	7. Maximal Legal Freedom	147
8.	The Value of Legal Freedom	151
	1. Introduction	151
	2. Types of Value	151
	3. Freedom's Specific Value in Parametric Situations	158
	4. Reasonable Preferences and Overall Specific Value	161
	5. The Possible Disvalue of Legal Freedom	164
	6. Being Free to Stay Passive	166
	7. Freedom's Specific Value in Strategic Situations	170
	8. Stability, Efficiency and the Non-Specific Value of Legal Free	edom 172
A	ppendix: Legal-Political Games	177
Re	eferences	179
In	ndex	185