

Contents

Preface	xvii
 PART I
DECONSTRUCTING LEGAL ANALYSIS: LEARNING HOW TO THINK LIKE A LAWYER	1
 Chapter 1
Introduction	3
 Chapter 2
The Traditional “Darwinian” Approach	7
A. Introduction	7
B. “Swim”	7
C. Pierson v. Post	8
D. Read, Analyze, and Be Prepared to Discuss	12
1. Read	12
2. Analyze	12
3. Be Prepared to Discuss	13
E. Case Briefing	13
F. Conclusion	14
 Chapter 3
The Evolution of a Case from an Analytical Perspective	15
A. The Genesis of a Case	15
B. The Role of the Lawyer	17
C. The “Vertical” Analytical Evolution of a Case	18
1. The Factual Plane	18
2. The Rule Plane	19
D. Pre-Trial	21
E. The Trial	23
F. The Appeal	26
 Chapter 4
“Thinking Like a Lawyer”	29
A. A Conceptual Understanding	29
B. Ranking the Planes	30
1. Which Plane Is the Most Important?	30

2. Which Plane Is the Second Most Important? 32

3. Which Plane Is the Least Important? 32

Chapter 5

Re-analyzing *Pierson v. Post 35

A. Appellate Opinion = Question of Law 35

B. Find the Answer — The Rule of Law 36

C. Find the Rationale for the Rule: The Public Policy 38

1. Did the Court Get It Right? 40

2. Justice and Fairness 41

D. The Holding 44

E. The Rationale for the Holding 44

1. Analyze Each Element 44

2. See Both Sides 44

F. Recap 46

G. Get Comfortable with the Rule 46

1. The Scope of the Rule 47

2. The Sharpness of the Rule 48

H. Conclusion 49

Chapter 6

Briefing a Case from an Analytical Perspective 51

A. Introduction 51

B. Typical Brief 51

C. Why You Should Brief Your Cases 53

D. How to Brief 55

1. Identify the Case 55

2. The Facts 55

3. Procedural Posture of the Case 56

4. Issue 56

5. Rule Statement 59

6. Public Policy Considerations 61

7. Holding 62

8. Rationale 63

9. Critique/Analysis 65

10. Dissenting Opinion 65

E. Conclusion 67

Chapter 7

The “What if . . .” Game 69

A. The Socratic Approach 69

B. The “What if . . .” Game 70

1. “What if . . .” — First Hypothetical 70

2. “What if . . .” — Second Hypothetical 71

3. “What if . . .” — Third Hypothetical 73

4. “What if . . .” — Fourth Hypothetical 75

C. Conclusion 76

Chapter 8
Introspective Legal Analysis: Russian Dolls	79
A. Introduction	79
B. Adverse Possession — Background	79
C. Howard v. Kunto	80
D. Analyzing Howard v. Kunto	82
1. The Evolution of the Case	82
2. The Question of Law on Appeal	83
3. The Larger Analytical Process	83
4. Issues Within the Issue	84
5. Visualizing the Application Process	84
6. The Spectrum: Bright Line Rules vs. Soft, Fact-Sensitive Rules	86
7. Howard v. Kunto — Application of Adverse Possession	88
8. Analysis of Typical Student Analysis	90
E. Legal Analysis — It Depends	91
F. Conclusion	92

PART II

THE EXAM TAKING PROCESS93

Chapter 9
Complete the Circle: See the Big Picture	95

Chapter 10
Writing Style: Write Like a Judge	101

Chapter 11
How to “Analyze” an Issue: IRAC vs. IRRAC	103
A. Introduction	103
B. See the Relationship Between Your Outline and the Exam	104
C. IRAC vs. IRRAC	106
D. Writing Your Analysis	109
E. Different Types of IRRACs: Variations on a Theme	114
1. Split in the Jurisdictions as to the Rule	114
2. Split in the Jurisdictions as to the Element	115
F. Competing Rules	116
1. Affirmative Defenses	116
G. Writing Your Outline	117
H. The Quality of Your Analysis vs. The Quality of Your Writing	120

Chapter 12
The Circuitry Behind Issue Spotting	123
A. Issue Spotting — Why?	123
B. Issue Spotting — How?	123
C. The Triggering Fact	124
D. Triggering Facts vs. Set-Up Facts	128

Chapter 13

The Macro Organization of Your Exam Essay	131
A. Introduction	131
B. “Sliders” — The Parallel “Legal” World	131
C. General Rule — Take the Issues in Chronological Order	133
D. Call of the Question: “Would” vs. “Should” vs. “State of Nirvana”	135

Chapter 14

Multiple Choice Questions: Mini-Essays	137
A. The Analytical Options	137
B. Analyze as if It Were an Essay	138
C. Use the “Other” Answers to Check Your Analysis	139
D. Watch Your Time	139

Chapter 15

Post-Exam Blues: How to Self-Diagnose Your Exam Performance	141
A. Introduction	141
B. Typical Professorial Feedback	141
C. There Are Only Two Ways You Can Lose Points on an Exam	142
D. Diagnosing Your Exam Writing Style	143
E. Issue Spotting Exercises — Triggering Facts	144
F. Compare your Multiple Choice vs. Essay Grades	145
G. Don’t Kill the Messenger, Instead Spend Some Time with Him or Her	146

PART III

TIME TO TAKE OFF THE TRAINING WHEELS: VARIATIONS ON THE LEGAL ANALYSIS THEME	147
---	-----

Chapter 16

Extrospective Legal Analysis: Case Synthesis	149
A. Conceptual Overview	149
B. Referencing a Prior Case	150
1. Citing to a Case	150
2. Discussing a Case: Binding vs. Persuasive Authority	150
3. Same Case vs. Different Case	151
C. Case Synthesis	153
D. Example of Case Synthesis: Kelly v. Gwinell	154
E. Analyzing the Court’s Opinion	162
1. How It Is Written	162
a. Issue Statement	162
b. “Question of First Impression”	163
2. How the Court Analyzed the Issue — Case Synthesis	163
a. Overview	163
b. The Backdrop	164
c. Articulating the Public Policy Consideration	164

d. Transitioning Back to the Legal Plane	165
e. The Analytical Steps Inherent in Case Synthesis	166
3. Recap of Case Synthesis in the context of Kelly v. Gwinnell	171
4. Case Synthesis: Skill or Art?	171
F. What If . . .	172
1. First Hypothetical	172
2. Analysis of First Hypothetical	172
3. Second Hypothetical	175
4. Analysis of Second Hypothetical	176

Chapter 17

Legal Analysis and Statutory Construction	179
A. Introduction	179
B. Theoretical Perspective	179
C. More Practical Perspective	180
D. The Legislative Intent Approach	180
E. The Textualist Approach	182
F. The Realist/Pragmatic Approach	182
G. The Three Planes	183

PART IV

CONCLUSION	185
-------------------	-----

Chapter 18

Miscellaneous Law School and Exam Taking Tips	187
--	-----

Index	193
--------------	-----