

Table of contents

Notes on Contributors	7
1. Introduction: How to Explore National Interest and Why Petr Drulák	11
2. National Interest and its Legitimacy: An Attempt at a New Approach Petr Kratochvíl	21
Case studies
3. The Demand Side of the EU Enlargement: Understanding our Neighbours Vít Beneš	35
4. Europeanization of the Czech Environmental Policy Mats Braun	53
Discourse analysis
5. Eastern Promises? Czech Ambiguity in the European Neighbourhood Petr Kratochvíl and Ondřej Horký	71
6. The Fortunes of the Czech Discourse on the Missile Defense Nik Hynek and Vít Strátecký	87
Grounded Theory
7. Czech Foreign Policy in Austrian and Slovak Newspapers Michal Kořan	105
8. The Czech Perspective on the Future of the EU: No Consensus in the Offing Mats Braun	127
Ethnography
9. The European Neighbourhood Policy: How Does National Identity Make its Way to Brussels? Elsa Tulmets	145
10. Human Rights Promotion: Czech Republic and the EU Věra Veselá	161
11. Conclusions: National Interests in Foreign Policy Mats Braun and Petr Drulák	181
References	193