

Contents

Introduction	11
A Design History for the Future Marjanne van Helvert
William Morris, Arts and Crafts, and the Idea of Eco-Socialist Design	29
Elizabeth Carolyn Miller
A Political Education	49
The Historical Legacy of the German Bauhaus and the Moscow VKhUTEMAS Éva Forgács
Margarete Schütte-Lihotzky	67
A Career in the Design Politics of the Everyday Susan R. Henderson
Good Design for Everyone	85
Scarcity, Equality, and Utility in the Second World War Marjanne van Helvert
Design for Consumer Society	107
Planned Obsolescence, Styling, and Irresponsible Objects Marjanne van Helvert
The Buckminster Fuller Mission	125
Ed van Hinte

The Humanitarian Object Victor Papanek and the Struggle for Responsible Design Alison J. Clarke	145
Counterculture and Anti-Design Postmodern Appropriations of Utopia Marjanne van Helvert	163
Design History Interrupted A Queer-Feminist Perspective Ece Canlı	187
The Digital Age Reaches the Fringes A Public Fab Lab in Brazil and Its (Possible) Implications for Design Andrea Bandoni	209
If Not Tomorrow, Then Today Paradigms of Latin American Design Luiza Prado de O. Martins &amp; Pedro J. S. Vieira de Oliveira	227
Responsible Objects, Utopian Desires A Two-Sided Monologue on the Future of Design Marjanne van Helvert	251
Contributors	261
Bibliography	270
Index	283
Colophon	288