

Contents

Preface	7
---------------	---

Part I

Moral and Legal Discourse in a Constitutional Democratic State

Karolina M. Cern, Bartosz Wojciechowski, Postmetaphysical approach to moral autonomy and justification of the thesis of the necessary relations between the legal and moral discourse	11
Marco Antonio Oliveira de Azevedo, Commands and Claims	45
Maciej Pichlak, The Autonomy from Morality as a Moral Claim: on Some Paradox of Legal Positivism	73
Martin Škop, Legal Rules, Moral Norms and Arbitrariness	95
Barbara Weber, Between Rationality (Habermas) and Sympathy (Rorty): Two Pragmatic Perspectives on Human Rights	111
Sebastian Sykuna, Jerzy Zajadło, Towards a New Theory of Hard Cases	133
Massimo Leone, Citizens of a Lesser God – Religious Minorities and the Legal Discourse of Multi-Cultural Democracies: the Case of Canada	163

Part II

Rights and Citizenship in the Legal Practice

Marta Soniewicka, How Dangerous Can the Sterilized Needle Be? Torture, Terrorism, and the Self-Refutation of the Liberal-Democratic State	185
Paul Bouissac, The Legal Status of Animals: From Perpetrators of Wrongs to Victims of Abuses	213
Piotr W. Juchacz, Public Hearing: On the Dangers of Adversarial Participation	225
José Manuel Aroso Linhares, Law in/as Literature as an alternative humanistic discourse. The Unavoidable Resistance to Legal Scientific Pragmatism or the Fertile Promise of a Communitas Without Law?	257

Leszek Leszczyński , Legal Certainty and Legal Discretion in the Statutory Legal Law	283
Lin Yuchuan , Confucianism and the Localization of Chinese Political Democracy	299
Agnieszka Choduń , Influence of Internationalisms on communicativeness of legal discourse	319

Appendix

Romina Amicolo , Legal Rules in the Name of Democracy and Democracy in the Name of Legal Rules: Parallel Deaths of Socrates and Julius Caese	329
--	-----