

Contents

Introduction

vii

- 1 The paradox of self-reference: sociological reflections on agency and intervention in the Anthropocene 1
Florence Chiew
- 2 Anthropocene: the enigma of 'the geomorphic fold' 19
Ben Dibley
- 3 Cycles of anthropogenic interdependencies on the island of Cyprus 33
Agata Mrva-Montoya
- 4 Ecosystem and landscape: strategies for the Anthropocene 63
Adrian Franklin
- 5 The matter of death: posthumous wildlife art in the Anthropocene 89
Vanessa Barbay
- 6 A game of horseshoes for the Anthropocene: the matter of externalities of cruelty to the horseracing industry 107
Madeleine Boyd

Animals in the Anthropocene

7	Painfully, from the first-person singular to first-person plural: the role of feminism in the study of the Anthropocene Daniel Kirjner	135
8	We have never been meat (but we could be) Simone J Dennis and Alison M Witchard	151
9	Multispecies publics in the Anthropocene: from symbolic exchange to material-discursive intra-action Gwendolyn Blue	165
10	Apiculture in the Anthropocene: between posthumanism and critical animal studies Richie Nimmo	177
11	The welfare episteme: street dog biopolitics in the Anthropocene Krithika Srinivasan	201
12	Wild elephants as actors in the Anthropocene Michael Hathaway	221
	Epilogue New World Order – nature in the Anthropocene Hayden Fowler	243
	About the contributors	255
	Index	263