

Contents

Table of Cases	xi
Table of Statutes	xvii
Abbreviations	xxi
Introduction	1
1. The Project: Realizing Intersectionality in Discrimination Law	6
Introduction	6
1. Intersectionality in Discrimination Law	7
1.1 An Example	7
1.2 A Survey	12
2. The Project	23
3. The Parameters	26
Conclusion	31
2. The Theory: Outlining the Intersectional Framework	32
Introduction	32
1. The Idea	33
1.1 Sameness and Difference	37
1.2 Patterns of Group Disadvantage	41
1.3 Integrity	45
1.4 Context	48
1.5 Transformation	51
2. A Defence	54
2.1 Intersectionality and Identity	55
2.2 Intersectionality, Identity, and Discrimination Law	60
3. An Illustration	63
3.1 Dalit Feminism	65
3.2 Dalit Feminism, Black Feminism, and Intersectionality	73
Conclusion	76
3. The Concept: Understanding the Category of Intersectional Discrimination	78
Introduction	78
1. Causation	80
2. Continuum	84
3. Single-axis Discrimination	85
3.1 Strictly Single-axis Discrimination	86
3.2 Substantially Single-axis Discrimination	96
3.3 Capacious Single-axis Discrimination	99
3.4 Contextual Single-axis Discrimination	104

4. Multiple Discrimination	109
5. Additive Discrimination	113
5.1 Combination Discrimination	114
5.2 Compound Discrimination	118
6. Embedded Discrimination	124
7. Intersectional Discrimination	127
Conclusion	138
4. The Practice: Establishing an Intersectional Claim	140
Introduction	140
1. Text of Guarantees	142
2. Grounds	146
2.1 The Construct of Grounds	147
2.2 The Test for Grounds	148
3. Direct and Indirect Discrimination	156
4. Wrongful Discrimination	162
4.1 The Meaning of Discrimination	164
4.2 Wrongful Intersectional Discrimination	168
5. Comparison	173
6. Justifications and Standard of Review	179
7. Evidence and Burden of Proof	190
8. Remedies	197
Conclusion	207
Conclusion	210
Bibliography	215
Index	223