

Contents

TABLE OF CASES	xi
TABLE OF STATUTES	xv
1. Safety and Public Welfare	1
1. Regulatory offences	3
2. Real crime and real persons	5
3. Corporations and crime	8
4. Conclusion	12
2. The role of criminal law	13
1. Why criminal law?	14
2. Theories of punishment	18
3. Crime and regulation	21
i. The historical and political contingency of regulation	23
ii. Regulation and social constructions	25
iii. Enforcement strategies	26
4. Corporate Sanctions	31
i. Financial sanctions	32
ii. Non-financial sanctions	37
3. Attribution of responsibility	40
1. Social constructions of crime	40
2. Blame attribution	43
3. Cause and blame	46
4. Institutional influences	53
i. The coroner's inquest	54
ii. Public inquiries	56
4. Criminal responsibility and the corporate entity	63
1. Notions of criminal responsibility	64
2. Culpability and strict liability	67
3. Groups, associations, and corporations	70
4. The corporate entity	74
i. Are corporations persons?	75
iii. Can corporations act morally?	78
iii. Juristic personhood: the corporation in law	81

5. Corporate liability in England and Wales	84
1. Historical development	86
i. Conception	86
ii. Infancy: to 1900	87
iii. Childhood: 1900–40	90
iv. Adolescence: 1940–90	93
2. Corporate liability—a maturing idea	99
i. Strict liability and hybrid offences	101
ii. Mens rea offences	103
6. Corporate manslaughter	106
1. Key developments	106
i. P&O	107
ii. Great Western Trains	112
iii. The aftermath	114
2. Culpability and risk	115
3. Unlawful act manslaughter—the forgotten question	117
4. Corporate killing—a proposed offence	120
i. The background	120
ii. Law Commission Report 237	122
7. Comparative and international solutions	127
1. Comparative cautions	128
2. Common law variations	129
i. Canada	130
ii. New Zealand	131
iii. United States—state jurisdictions	131
iv. United States—federal jurisdiction	132
v. Australia	136
3. Civil law changes	138
4. Convergence	140
8. The responsible corporation	146
1. The corporate organization	146
2. Strict (vicarious) liability versus due diligence	152
3. People, systems, and culture	154
i. Extending identification	155
ii. Aggregation	156
iii. Going holistic	156
4. Individual liability	160
5. The responsible corporation	164
Bibliography	169
Index	185