

Contents

Acknowledgements	xv
Chapter 1. Introduction	1
1.1. Criminal legislation and the ‘war on terrorism’	1
1.2. The role of the UN Security Council	3
1.3. The role of the European Union	4
1.4. The changing role of national legislation	7
1.5. The scope of this book	8
1.6. Objectives and methods	11
1.7. The structure of the further analysis	12
Chapter 2. The UN Security Council Resolution 1373	15
2.1. Introduction	15
2.2. The concept of international terrorism	18
2.3. The measures	22
2.3.1. Introduction	22
2.3.2. General clauses	23
2.3.3. Criminalisation, prosecution and punishment	23
2.3.4. Freezing funds and not making funds available to terrorists	26
2.3.5. Refraining from active and passive support for terrorism	29
2.3.6. Cooperation with other states and the implementation of conventions	30
2.3.7. The Counter-Terrorism Committee	32
2.4. The legislative character of the Resolution	35
2.5. The legal basis for the Resolution	40
2.5.1. Introduction	40
2.5.2. The UN Charter, Article 39	41
2.5.3. The UN Charter, Article 41	45
2.5.4. The UN Principles and Purposes	48
2.5.4.1. Respect for Human Rights	48
2.5.4.2. State sovereignty and equality	50
2.5.5. Subsequent state practice	52

Chapter 3. The EU Framework Decision on Combating Terrorism	55
3.1. Introduction	55
3.2. The concepts of terrorism and terrorist offences	56
3.3. The measures	58
3.3.1. Introduction	58
3.3.2. Criminalisation	59
3.3.3. The level of penalties	60
3.3.4. Obligations concerning legal persons	64
3.3.5. Jurisdiction and prosecution	66
3.3.6. Protection of victims	67
3.3.7. Respect for fundamental rights and principles	68
3.3.8. Implementation and reports	69
3.4. The legal basis for the Framework Decision	70
3.5. The legislative character of the Framework Decision	71
Chapter 4. The Process of Implementation in National Criminal Law	75
4.1. Introduction	75
4.2. Denmark	76
4.3. Norway	78
4.4. Sweden	82
4.5. Finland	85
4.6. The Netherlands	88
4.7. Germany	91
Chapter 5. Terrorist Offences	97
5.1. Introduction	97
5.2. The duty to deem terrorist offences as such	99
5.2.1. The Framework Decision	99
5.2.2. National implementation	100
5.3. The basic offences	104
5.3.1. Introduction	104
5.3.2. Attacks upon a person's life	106
5.3.2.1. The Framework Decision	106
5.3.2.2. National implementation	107
5.3.3. Attacks upon a person's physical integrity	108
5.3.3.1. The Framework Decision	108
5.3.3.2. National implementation	109
5.3.4. Kidnapping and hostage taking	111
5.3.4.1. The Framework Decision	111
5.3.4.2. National implementation	112

5.3.5.	Causing extensive destruction	113
5.3.5.1.	The Framework Decision	113
5.3.5.2.	National implementation	117
5.3.6.	Seizure of means of transport	119
5.3.6.1.	The Framework Decision	119
5.3.6.2.	National implementation	120
5.3.7.	Offences concerning weapons and explosives	121
5.3.7.1.	The Framework Decision	121
5.3.7.2.	National implementation	123
5.3.8.	The release of dangerous substances and causing fires, floods and explosions	129
5.3.8.1.	The Framework Decision	129
5.3.8.2.	National implementation	130
5.3.9.	Interfering with the supply of fundamental natural resources	131
5.3.9.1.	The Framework Decision	131
5.3.9.2.	National implementation	132
5.3.10.	Threats	133
5.3.10.1.	The Framework Decision	133
5.3.10.2.	National implementation	134
5.4.	The terrorist aim	135
5.4.1.	Introduction	135
5.4.2.	The concept of an 'aim'	136
5.4.2.1.	The Framework Decision	136
5.4.2.2.	National implementation	137
5.4.3.	The structure of this condition	140
5.4.3.1.	The Framework Decision	140
5.4.3.2.	National implementation	142
5.4.4.	Seriously intimidating a population	143
5.4.4.1.	The Framework Decision	143
5.4.4.2.	National implementation	143
5.4.5.	Unduly compelling a Government or international organisation to perform or abstain from performing any act	144
5.4.5.1.	The Framework Decision	144
5.4.5.2.	National implementation	145
5.4.6.	Seriously destabilising or destroying the fundamental political, constitutional, economic or social structures of a country or an international organisation	148
5.4.6.1.	The Framework Decision	148
5.4.6.2.	National implementation	149

5.5. The dangerousness of the act	151
5.5.1. The Framework Decision	151
5.5.2. National implementation	153
5.6. Attempts	157
5.6.1. The Framework Decision	157
5.6.2. National implementation	159
5.7. Aiding and abetting	162
5.7.1. The Framework Decision	162
5.7.2. National implementation	165
5.8. Incitement	168
5.8.1. The Framework Decision	168
5.8.2. National implementation	169
5.9. The level of penalties	171
5.9.1. The Framework Decision	171
5.9.2. National implementation	172
5.9.2.1. Introduction	172
5.9.2.2. Denmark	173
5.9.2.3. Norway	175
5.9.2.4. Sweden	178
5.9.2.5. Finland	180
5.9.2.6. The Netherlands	183
5.9.2.7. Germany	185
5.10. Conclusion	187
 Chapter 6. Offences Relating to a Terrorist Group	 193
6.1. Introduction	193
6.2. The duty to ensure criminalisation	194
6.2.1. The Framework Decision	194
6.2.2. National implementation	196
6.3. The definition of a ‘terrorist group’	201
6.3.1. The Framework Decision	201
6.3.2. National implementation	203
6.4. Participation in the activities of a terrorist group	211
6.4.1. The Framework Decision	211
6.4.2. National implementation	213
6.5. Direction of a terrorist group	220
6.5.1. The Framework Decision	220
6.5.2. National implementation	221
6.6. Attempts	224
6.6.1. The Framework Decision	224
6.6.2. National implementation	224

6.7.	Aiding and abetting	225
6.7.1.	The Framework Decision	225
6.7.2.	National implementation	226
6.8.	Incitement	228
6.8.1.	The Framework Decision	228
6.8.2.	National implementation	229
6.9.	The level of penalties	231
6.9.1.	The EU Framework Decision	231
6.9.2.	National implementation	232
6.10.	Conclusion	235
Chapter 7. Offences Linked to Terrorist Offences		241
7.1.	Introduction	241
7.2.	The duty to ensure criminalisation	242
7.2.1.	The Framework Decision	242
7.2.2.	National implementation	243
7.3.	The basic offences	246
7.3.1.	Aggravated theft	246
7.3.2.	Extortion	247
7.3.3.	Drawing up false administrative documents	247
7.4.	With a view to committing terrorist offences	248
7.4.1.	The Framework Decision	248
7.4.2.	National implementation	249
7.5.	Attempts	250
7.6.	Aiding and abetting	251
7.7.	Incitement	251
7.8.	The level of penalties	252
7.8.1.	The Framework Decision	252
7.8.2.	National implementation	252
7.9.	Conclusion	254
Chapter 8. Financing of Terrorism		255
8.1.	Introduction	255
8.2.	The duty to ensure criminalisation	256
8.2.1.	Resolution 1373 and related international obligations	256
8.2.2.	National implementation	258
8.3.	Financing of terrorist acts	263
8.3.1.	Introduction	263
8.3.2.	The concept of ‘funds’	263
8.3.3.	The illegal acts of financing	264

8.3.4. Criminal conduct it is not permitted to finance	266
8.3.5. The fault requirements	269
8.4. Financial support of terrorists and related entities	271
8.4.1. Introduction	271
8.4.2. The concepts of 'funds' etc. and 'financial services'	271
8.4.3. The illegal acts of financing	273
8.4.4. The subjects it is not permitted to finance	273
8.4.5. The fault requirement	275
8.5. Attempts	277
8.6. Aiding and abetting	278
8.7. Incitement	279
8.8. The level of penalties	279
8.9. Conclusion	282
 Chapter 9. Other Planning and Preparation of Terrorism	285
9.1. Introduction	285
9.2. The duty to ensure criminalisation	286
9.2.1. Resolution 1373	286
9.2.2. National implementation	287
9.3. Conspiracy to engage in terrorism	291
9.3.1. Introduction	291
9.3.2. The agreement	292
9.3.3. Criminal conduct it is not permitted to agree upon	294
9.3.4. The fault requirements	296
9.3.5. Other related offences	298
9.4. Physical preparation of terrorism	299
9.4.1. Introduction	299
9.4.2. Criminal conduct it is not permitted to prepare	299
9.4.3. The objects and methods it is not permitted to use for preparatory purposes	300
9.4.4. The fault requirements	304
9.5. Attempts	306
9.6. Aiding and abetting	308
9.7. Incitement	308
9.8. The level of penalties	309
9.9. Conclusion	312

Chapter 10. The Scope of National Jurisdiction	315
10.1. Introduction	315
10.2. Territorial jurisdiction and the locus delicti	316
10.2.1. Resolution 1373 and related international obligations	316
10.2.2. The Framework Decision	317
10.2.3. National law	318
10.3. Extraterritorial jurisdiction	322
10.3.1. Resolution 1373 and related international obligations	322
10.3.2. The Framework Decision	324
10.3.2.1. Introduction	324
10.3.2.2. Active personality jurisdiction	325
10.3.2.3. Jurisdiction over legal persons	327
10.3.2.4. Passive personality jurisdiction	330
10.3.2.5. Protective jurisdiction	331
10.3.2.6. Optional EU-wide jurisdiction	333
10.3.3. National implementation	335
10.3.3.1. Introduction	335
10.3.3.2. Denmark	335
10.3.3.3. Norway	337
10.3.3.4. Sweden	339
10.3.3.5. Finland	341
10.3.3.6. The Netherlands	342
10.3.3.7. Germany	346
10.4. Jurisdiction where extradition is refused	350
10.4.1. Resolution 1373 and related international obligations	350
10.4.2. The Framework Decision	352
10.4.3. National implementation	353
10.5. Concurrent jurisdictions	355
10.5.1. Resolution 1373 and related international obligations	355
10.5.2. The Framework Decision	355
10.5.3. National implementation	357
10.6. Conclusion	357
Chapter 11. The Exclusion of Actions by Military Forces, Resistance Movements and Demonstrators?	363
11.1. Introduction	363
11.2. Resolution 1373	364

11.3. The EU Framework Decision	369
11.3.1. Introduction	369
11.3.2. Actions by armed forces in armed conflict	371
11.3.2.1. Introduction	371
11.3.2.2. Governed by international humanitarian law	371
11.3.2.3. Armed conflict	375
11.3.2.4. Armed forces	379
11.3.3. Actions by the armed forces of a state outside armed conflict	384
11.3.4. Acts in the interest of preserving or restoring democratic values	388
11.3.5. Acts in the exercise of the right to manifest one's opinions	393
11.4. National Implementation	395
11.4.1. Introduction	395
11.4.2. Actions by armed forces in armed conflict	395
11.4.3. Actions by the armed forces of a state outside armed conflict	402
11.4.4. Acts in the interest of preserving or restoring democratic values	403
11.4.5. Acts in the exercise of the right to manifest one's opinions	410
11.5. Conclusion	415
Chapter 12. General Conclusions	421
12.1. Introduction	421
12.2. The process of multilevel criminal legislation	422
12.2.1. Introduction	422
12.2.2. The development of international framework legislation	422
12.2.3. The response of the national legal orders	425
12.2.4. The states' margin of discretion	428
12.3. The outcome in national criminal legislation	434
12.3.1. Introduction	434
12.3.2. Terrorism as a discrete crime	435
12.3.3. Extensive criminalisation of preparatory acts	440
12.3.4. Aggravated level of punishment	444
12.3.5. Extended extraterritorial applicability of national law	446
12.3.6. Increased complexity of national law	448
12.4. Epilogue	451

Bibliography	453
Conventions	467
National Legislation	469
Other Abbreviations	471
UN Security Council Resolution 1373	473
EU Framework Decision on Combating Terrorism	477
Index	483