

Contents

List of tables

Preface

1	Public policy: a design perspective	1
	Introduction	1
	The design perspective	5
	Design and evolution	8
	Rationality, risk and design	9
	The state and its allies	10
	Contents of the book	11
2	Policy problems	14
	Why have public policy at all?	15
	Market failure	16
	Social failures	18
	Characteristics of policy problems	19
	Boundary spanning problems	20
	Public goods and divisibility	21
	Scale	22
	Solubility	24
	Complexity	26
	Certainty and risk	28
	Tragic choices	30
	Monetization	31
	Summary	32

Unstructured and wicked problems	33
Some common issues in defining problems	35
Coordination as a policy problem	36
Summary	37

PART I    MAKING DECISIONS ABOUT POLICY

3	Models of policymaking	40
	Approaches to decision-making and their relationship to policymaking	42
	Rationality	43
	Bounded rationality	47
	Institutional analysis and development	53
	Multiple streams and the garbage can	55
	Political models of policymaking	58
	Stages models of policymaking	58
	Subsystems: policy causes politics	60
	The advocacy-coalition framework	63
	Powering, puzzling, and so on	65
	Contingent models and choices	67
	Summary: multiple models, but what is missing?	69
4	Agendas, agenda-setting and framing	71
	Agendas and agenda-setting	72
	The issue-attention cycle	78
	Focusing events and agenda-setting	80
	Framing	82
	Summary	84

PART II    POLICY INTERVENTIONS

5	Designing intervention and implementation	87
	Implementation as a component of the policy process	89
	Implementation outcomes as probabilities	89
	Forward and backward mapping for design	91
	Multiple actors: implementation structures and networks	92

	Summary	94
	Gaining compliance	94
	Drift and sabotage	95
	Barriers to implementation	97
	Street-level bureaucrats and implementation	100
	What is implementation success?	102
	Interventions and implementation	103
	Summary	105
6	Policy instruments	107
	Classifying policy instruments	108
	Political science approaches to instruments	110
	Constructivist perspectives on instruments	113
	The psychology and sociology of instruments: nudge and its allies	114
	Evaluating the classifications	115
	Choosing instruments	116
	Individual decision-makers	116
	Institutions and instrument choice	118
	Ideas	120
	Interests	121
	Summary	122
	Evaluating instruments	123
	Political features of instruments	124
	Economic features of instruments	125
	Administrative criteria of policy instruments	126
	Ethical criteria	128
	Summary	130
	The Swiss Army Knife of government	131
	Summary	132

PART III EVALUATING POLICY

7	Evaluating public policy: an introduction	135
	The process of evaluation	136

	Barriers to effective evaluation	140
	Performance management as an alternative to evaluation	142
	Experiments and evaluation	145
	Evaluation as feedback	146
	Evaluation and learning	148
	Conclusions	149
8	Evaluating public policy: the utilitarian dimension	151
	The logic of cost-benefit analysis	152
	Measuring costs and benefits	155
	Problems in cost-benefit analysis	156
	Extensions of cost-benefit analysis	160
	Summary	163
9	Normative and ethical analysis of policy	165
	Fairness	166
	Autonomy and freedom of choice	168
	Preservation of life	170
	Stigma	173
	Truth-telling, many hands and dirty hands	175
	Summary	178
10	Conclusion: policy success and failure	180
	Going beyond individual policies	183
	Reactions to policy failure: governing in the shadows	185
	Where do we go from here?	191
	References	192
	Index	211