

CONTENTS

PREFACE v

PART ONE Introduction 1

1

POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC SYSTEMS 2

Plan of the Book 2

The Political-Economic Approach 4

Socialism and Capitalism 5

Arguments for Capitalism 7

Arguments against Socialism 8

Arguments against Capitalism 8

Arguments for Socialism 10

Democracy and Dictatorship 11

Developed and Underdeveloped Economies 13

Hypotheses Concerning Politics and Economics 14

No Necessary Relation 14

Politics Determined by Economics 15

Closely Related, but Not the Same 17

Comparing Economic Systems 21

The Standard of Living 22

Static Efficiency 23

Economic Growth and Dynamic Efficiency 23

Equality of Income Distribution 24

Full Employment and Macroeconomic Stability 24

Economic Freedoms and Noneconomic Factors 25

Controversies among Comparative Economists 26

Recommended Readings 27

PART TWO Market Economies and the Government 29

2
JAPAN BUSINESS AND GOVERNMENT
COORDINATION 31

- Background 32
- Corporate Structure and Finance 34
- Household Savings 39
- Labor-Market Institutions 40
 - Lifetime Employment 42
 - Seniority-Based Wages 44
 - Company Unionism 45
 - Worker Participation 46
 - Wages 47
 - Other Employee Compensation 49
- Role of the State 56
- Summary and Conclusion 57
- Recommended Readings 59

3
SWEDEN THE MIDDLE WAY 60

- Background 61
- Social Services and Benefits 64
- The Cooperative Sector 66
- Industrial Democracy 68
- Labor-Market Characteristics and Policies 72
- Fiscal Policy 80
 - Taxation 82
- Monetary Policy 85
- Supply Management 87
- Capital Formation 88
- Conclusion 90
- Recommended Readings 91

PART THREE Central Planning: The Soviet Case 93

- Soviet Economic Institutions: Differences from the United States 94
 - Government Ownership of Industry 94
 - Government Ownership of Agriculture 95
 - Central Planning 95
 - Central Planning and the University 96
 - Public Health, Education, and Housing 98
- Soviet Economic Institutions: Similarities to the United States 99

A Statistical Overview of Soviet and U.S. Growth since 1950	151
Industrial Performance	151
Agricultural Performance	151
Consumption Performance	152
Performance of Total Output (GNP)	154
Why the Soviet Economy Has Grown Faster than the U.S. Economy	154
The Decline of Soviet Growth Rates	155
Soviet Labor Productivity	156
Capital Productivity	157
The Slowdown in Soviet Growth	160
Consequences of a Maturing Economy	160
Strategic Planning Decisions	161
Systemic Elements	162
Exogenous Factors	163
Appendix 5A Problems with Soviet Statistics	164
Appendix 5B Soviet vs. U.S. "Defense Spending"	169
Conclusions	172
Recommended Readings	173
Recommended Readings for Appendix 5A	174
Recommended Readings for Appendix 5B	174

6

USSR THE OPERATION OF CENTRAL PLANNING 175

Forms of Enterprise	178
The Ministry System	179
The Organization of the Planning Mechanism	181
The Price System	185
Retail Prices of Consumer Goods	186
Prices of Labor Services (Wage Rates)	187
Industrial Wholesale Prices	188
Agricultural Prices	190
The Second Economy	190
Appendix 6A Soviet Trade	192
Institutional Setup	193
Soviet Attitudes toward Trade	194
The Commodity and Geographical Pattern of Trade	196
Future Directions of Soviet Trade	199
Recommended Readings	200
Recommended Readings for Appendix 6A	201

7

USSR PLANNING FOR BALANCE 202

Aggregate Balance	202
No General Unemployment	203
Causes of Inflation	204

Privately Owned Consumer Goods	99
Work for Money Wages	99
Worker Mobility	100
Plan of Part Three	101

4

USSR DEVELOPMENT FROM 1917 TO 1928 102

Russia before 1917	102
The Immobilization of the Peasant	103
The Extremely Low Level of Agricultural Productivity	104
Political Evolution, 1905–1917	105
War Communism	106
Political Evolution, 1917–1921	110
Socioeconomic Causes of Soviet Dictatorship	112
The New Economic Policy	112
Beginnings of NEP (1921–1923)	113
Agriculture	113
Industry	113
Trade	114
Labor	114
Finance	114
Planning	115
The Scissors Crisis (1923–1924)	115
The End of NEP (1924–1928)	117
Agriculture	117
Industry	120
The Great Debate	121
The Solution	126
Recommended Readings	129

5

USSR DEVELOPMENT FROM 1928 TO THE PRESENT 131

Economic Backwardness and Rapid Industrialization	131
Soviet Ideology: Democracy and Dictatorship	133
The First Five-Year Plan (1928–1933)	135
The Second Five-Year Plan (1933–1937)	138
The Third Five-Year Plan (1938–1941)	140
Growth in the 1930s	140
The Second World War (1941–1945)	143
Reconstruction (1945–1950)	144
Soviet Economic Growth, 1950 to the Present	145
Growth in a Centrally Planned Economy	145
Production Is Determined by Capital, Labor, Natural Resources, and Technology	145
Population and Growth	146
Full Capacity Growth	148
The Political-Ethical Issues: Consumption vs. Investment	149

Has the Soviet Union Eliminated Inflation?	205
Macroeconomic Balance in a Planned Economy	209
The Material Balance Method	211
Problems of the Soviet Balance Method	212
Limitations of the Input-Output Method	214
Cyclical Fluctuations in Soviet Types of Economies	216
Macroeconomic Instability Due to Trade	218
Appendix 7A Repressed Inflation	219
Appendix 7B The Input-Output Technique	221
Recommended Readings	227

8

USSR PLANNING FOR EFFICIENCY 228

Need for Rational Prices	228
Optimal Conditions and Planning	229
Information and Computation Problems	231
Central and Decentralized Solutions	232
A Tentative Summary of Conclusions on Efficiency	233
The "Law of Value" in the Soviet Union	235
History of the Debate	235
Prices and Efficiency	239
The Importance of Prices in Soviet Planning	239
Price Policies	241
Summary of the Planning Debate	243
Choice of Technology	243
Decision Making, Democracy, and Efficiency	247
Appendix 8A Linear Programming in the Soviet Context	249
An Example	252
Recommended Readings	255

9

USSR CLASS STRUCTURE: RULERS, MANAGERS, WORKERS, AND FARMERS 256

A Soviet Ruling Class?	256
Mobility	259
Soviet Income Distribution and Inequality	260
Stratification of the Soviet Working Class	262
Soviet Managers	265
Soviet Industrial Workers	268
Soviet Agricultural Workers	271
Appendix 9A Trade Unions	276
Soviet Trade Unions	276
Polish Trade Unions	280
U.S. Trade Unions	286
Recommended Readings	287

USSR REFORM, REGRESSION, AND MORE
REFORM 289

Political Background of Reform 289

Marx on Socialism 289

Socialist Economic Theories 289

Yugoslav Experience 290

Economic Problems Leading to Reform 290

Problems of the Soviet Enterprise 291

(1) False Reports 291

(2) Easier Plans 292

(3) Poorer Quality 292

(4) Fewer Styles 292

(5) Easiest Mixture 293

(6) Extra Supplies 293

(7) Hidden Reserves 293

(8) Extra Labor 293

(9) Storming 294

(10) Resistance to Innovations 294

The Liberman Debate 294

Official Reforms 296

What Happened to the 1965 Reforms? 298

Fewer Incentive Indicators, Mainly Profitability 298

Use of Rent and Interest on Capital 300

Decentralized Investment 300

Long-Term Fixed Contracts 301

The Gorbachev Reforms: 1987 and the Future 302

The Gorbachev Reform 303

How Radical Is Gorbachev's Reform? 310

Political Opposition to Reform 313

Final Thoughts 316

Recommended Readings 316

PART FOUR Central Planning: The Developing Countries 319

CHINA A CHANGING MODEL 320

Background 321

Economic Development and the Transformation of the

Chinese Economy 325

Great Leap Forward (1958–1960) 327

The Cultural Revolution 333

The Post-Mao Reforms 340

Agricultural Reform 342

Industrial Reform	346
Trade Reform	349
Reform Problems	352
Conclusion	355
Recommended Readings	357

12CUBA SOCIALISM NEXT DOOR 358

Background	360
Early Development Strategy	363
Planning in the 1960s	364
Economic Change, 1970–1975	367
Material Incentives	368
Worker Participation	370
Income Distribution	371
Economic Change since 1975	373
Achievements of the Cuban Revolution	376
Soviet Economic Aid	378
Prospects	382
Conclusion	383
Recommended Readings	385

PART FIVE Market Socialism 38713*THE THEORY OF MARKET SOCIALISM 388

The Economics of Market Socialism	389
Alternative Market Socialist Models	394
Recommended Readings	395

14HUNGARY PLAN AND MARKET 396

Background	396
Early Economic Reform	399
The New Economic Mechanism	400
Agriculture	405
Foreign Trade	408
NEM: The Second Phase	409
Prices	409
Industrial Structure	411
Labor	412
Plan Bargaining	415
NEM: The Third Phase, 1985	416
Evaluation	418
Recommended Readings	421

15

YUGOSLAVIA SELF-MANAGEMENT AND THE MARKET 423

Early Economic Policy: The Emergence of the Yugoslav
Model 426

Economic Reforms of 1965 427

Income Distribution 431

The Economic Theory of Worker Management 434

Yugoslav Worker Management in Practice 437

The Reforms of the 1970s 439

Conclusion 443

Recommended Readings 444

PART SIX Conclusion 445

16

COMPARING ECONOMIC SYSTEMS 446

General Remarks 446

Market Decentralization of "Socialist" Economies 447

Administrative Decentralization of "Socialist"
Economies 449

Evaluating Performance 452

Methodology 452

Criteria and Performance 453

Economic Growth 454

Efficiency 455

Distribution of Income 457

Economic Stability 459

Economic Freedoms 462

Consumer Choice 462

Worker Participation 463

Occupational Choice 464

Final Remarks 465

Appendix 16A A Controlled Comparison: East and West
Germany 467

Per Capita Income and Growth 467

Efficiency 469

Stability 469

Income Distribution 469

Other Criteria 470

Recommended Readings 470

Index 471