

CONTENTS

Series Editors' Preface	vii
List of Figures	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
Notes on Contributors	xiii

Foreword	xv
Laura Kalas

Introduction: Considering Nature	1
Theresa L. Tyers and Patricia Skinner

WOMEN'S SPACES

1	Intersections of [Un]Nature, Power and [Dis]Order: the Presentation of Elite Women in Medieval Chronicles	15
	Linda E. Mitchell
2	Gendering Treatment: Cupping by Female Practitioners in Late Medieval Visual Culture	36
	Jennifer Borland
3	Fracturing Boundaries: Domesticity and Agricultural Practices in a Late Fourteenth-Century Manuscript	63
	Theresa L. Tyers
4	Distilling Nature: Raw Materials, 'Artificial' Remedies and the Human Body in the Later Middle Ages	80
	Elma Brenner

QUEER BODIES

5	Recreating the 'Natural World': the Medieval Oyster and her Pearl	95
	Diane Heath
6	Amazed and Ravished in the Medieval Garden: the Space of Lesbian Desire in The Assembly of Ladies and The Floure and the Leafe	119
	Michelle M. Sauer
7	Monstrous Hybrids, Maternal Sin and the Concept of Species in Nicole Oresme's De causis mirabilium	141
	Tess Wingard

Bibliography	155
Index	179