

Contents

List of Illustrations	xvii
List of Maps	xxi
Acknowledgements	xxiii

Introduction	I
--------------	---

PART I

A Millennium of Beginnings (1000 BCE–100 CE)

1 Greece and Rome (c. 1000 BCE–100 CE)	19
Greek Beginnings	19
Hellenistic Greece	37
Rome and the Coming of the Roman Empire	41
2 Israel (c. 1000 BCE–100 CE)	47
A People and Their Land	47
The Exile and After	62

PART II

One Church, One Faith, One Lord? (4 BCE–451 CE)

3 A Crucified Messiah (4 BCE–100 CE)	77
Beginnings	77
The Adult Jesus: A Public Campaign	82
Crucifixion and Resurrection	91
New Directions: Paul of Tarsus	97
The Gospel of John and Revelation	102
The Jewish Revolt and the End of Jerusalem	106

4	Boundaries Defined (50 CE–300)	112
	Shaping the Church	112
	Alternative Identities: Gnosticism, Marcionism	121
	Canon, Creed, Ministry, Catholicity	127
	Montanism: Prophecy Renewed and Suppressed	138
	Justin, Irenaeus, Tertullian	141
	Alexandrian Theologians: Clement and Origen	147
5	The Prince: Ally or Enemy? (100–300)	155
	The Church and the Roman Empire (100–200)	155
	Third-century Imperial Crisis	166
	From Persecution to Persecution (250–300)	172
	Kings and Christians: Syria, Armenia	176
6	The Imperial Church (300–451)	189
	Constantine and the God of Battles	189
	The Beginnings of Monasticism	200
	Constantine, Arius and the One God (306–25)	211
	Councils and Dissidents from Nicaea to Chalcedon	215
	Miaphysites and Nestorius	222

PART III

Vanishing Futures: East and South (451–1500)

7	Defying Chalcedon: Asia and Africa (451–622)	231
	Miaphysite Christianity and Its Missions	231
	Ethiopia: The Christianity of 'Union'	240
	The Church of the East (451–622)	245
8	Islam: The Great Realignment (622–1500)	255
	Muhammad and the Coming of Islam	255
	Islam and the East	261
	The Church in China	267
	The Mongols: New Hope and Catastrophe	270
	Islam and the African Churches	277

PART IV

The Unpredictable Rise of Rome (300–1300)

9	The Making of Latin Christianity (300–500)	289
	The Rome of the Popes (300–400)	289
	A Religion Fit for Gentlemen (300–400)	296
	Augustine: Shaper of the Western Church	301
	Early Monasticism in the West (400–500)	312
10	Latin Christendom: New Frontiers (500–1000)	319
	Changing Allegiances: Rome, Byzantium and Others	319
	Missions in Northern Europe (500–600)	329
	Obedient Anglo-Saxons and Other Converts (600–800)	338
	Charlemagne, Carolingians and a New Roman Empire (800–1000)	346
11	The West: Universal Emperor or Universal Pope? (900–1200)	363
	Abbots, Warriors and Popes: Cluny's Legacy	363
	The Vicar of Christ: Marriage, Celibacy and Universal Monarchy	371
	The Age of the Crusades (1060–1200)	381
	Cistercians, Carthusians and Mary (1100–1200)	389
12	A Church for All People? (1100–1300)	396
	Theology, Heresy, Universities (1100–1300)	396
	A Pastoral Revolution, Friars and the Fourth Lateran Council (1200–1260)	401
	Thomas Aquinas: Philosophy and Faith	412
	Love in a Cold Climate: Personal Devotion after 1200	415

PART V

Orthodoxy: The Imperial Faith (451–1800)

13	Faith in a New Rome (451–900)	427
	A Church to Shape Orthodoxy: Hagia Sophia	427
	Byzantine Spirituality: Maximus and the Mystical Tradition	436

	Smashing Images: The Iconoclastic Controversy (726–843)	442
	Photios and New Missions to the West (850–900)	457
14	Orthodoxy: More Than an Empire (900–1700)	466
	Crises and Crusaders (900–1200)	466
	The Fourth Crusade and Its Aftermath (1204–1300)	473
	Orthodox Renaissance, Ottomans and Hesychasm
	Triumphant (1300–1400)	482
	Hopes Destroyed: Church Union, Ottoman Conquest (1400–1700)	491
15	Russia: The Third Rome (900–1800)	503
	A New Threat to Christendom: Norsemen, Rus' and Kiev (900–1240)	503
	Tatars, Lithuania and Muscovy (1240–1448)	510
	Muscovy Triumphant (1448–1547)	522
	Ivan the Terrible and the New Patriarchate (1547–98)	528
	From Muscovy to Russia (1598–1800)	537

PART VI

Western Christianity Dismembered (1300–1800)

16	Perspectives on the True Church (1300–1517)	551
	The Church, Death and Purgatory (1300–1500)	551
	Papal Monarchy Challenged (1300–1500)	558
	Nominalists, Lollards and Hussites (1300–1500)	564
	Old Worlds Bring New: Humanism (1300–1500)	574
	Reforming the Church in the Last Days (1500)	584
	Erasmus: New Beginnings?	594
17	A House Divided (1517–1660)	604
	A Door in Wittenberg	604
	The Farmers' War and Zwingli	614
	Reformations Radical and Magisterial: Anabaptists and Henry VIII	622
	Strassburg, England and Geneva (1540–60)	629
	Reformed Protestants, Confessionalization and Toleration (1560–1660)	637
	Reformation Crises: The Thirty Years War and Britain	644

18	Rome's Renewal (1500–1700)	655
	Cross-currents in Spain and Italy: Valdesians and Jesuits (1500–1540)	655
	Regensburg and Trent: A Contest Resolved (1541–59)	662
	Counter-Reformations after Trent: England, Spain and the Mystics	667
	Trent Delayed: France and Poland-Lithuania	675
	Lives Separated: Saints, Splendour, Sex and Witches	680
19	A Worldwide Faith (1500–1800)	689
	Iberian Empires: The Western Church Exported	689
	Counter-Reformation in a New World	696
	Counter-Reformation in Asia: Empires Unconquered	703
	Counter-Reformation in Africa: The Blight of the Slave Trade	709
20	Protestant Awakenings (1600–1800)	716
	Protestants and American Colonization	716
	The Fight for Protestant Survival (1660–1800)	731
	Pietism and the Moravians	738
	The Evangelical Revival: Methodism	747
	The Great Awakenings and the American Revolution	755

PART VII

God in the Dock (1492–present)

21	Enlightenment: Ally or Enemy? (1492–1815)	769
	Natural and Unnatural Philosophy (1492–1700)	769
	Judaism, Scepticism and Deism (1492–1700)	776
	Social Watersheds in the Netherlands and England (1650–1750)	787
	Gender Roles in the Enlightenment	791
	Enlightenment in the Eighteenth Century	794
	The French Revolution (1789–1815)	806
	Aftermath of Revolution: A Europe of Nation-states	812
22	Europe Re-enchanted or Disenchanted? (1815–1914)	817
	Catholicism Ascendant: Mary's Triumph and the Challenge of Liberalism	817

Protestantism: Bibles and 'First-wave' Feminism	827
A Protestant Enlightenment: Schleiermacher, Hegel and Their Heirs	830
British Protestantism and the Oxford Movement	838
Orthodoxy: Russia and Ottoman Decay	846
Masters of Suspicion: Geology, Biblical Criticism and Atheism	855
23 To Make the World Protestant (1700–1914)	866
Slavery and Its Abolition: A New Christian Taboo	866
A Protestant World Mission: Oceania and Australasia	873
Africa: An Islamic or a Protestant Century?	879
India: The Great Rebellion and the Limits of Colonial Mission	892
China, Korea, Japan	895
America: The New Protestant Empire	902
24 Not Peace but a Sword (1914–60)	915
A War That Killed Christendom (1914–18)	915
Great Britain: The Last Years of Christian Empire	927
Catholics and Christ the King: The Second Age of Catholic Missions	931
The Churches and Nazism: The Second World War	941
World Christianity Realigned: Ecumenical Beginnings	951
World Christianity Realigned: Pentecostals and New Churches	958
25 Culture Wars (1960–Present)	967
The Second Vatican Council: Half a Revolution	967
Catholics, Protestants and Liberation	975
A Cultural Revolution from the Sixties	985
Old-time Religion: Affirmations	990
Freedom: Prospects and Fears	999
Notes	1017
Further Reading	1098
Index	1113