

Contents

About the editors and contributors	vii
Acknowledgements	xiii
Introduction	xiv
PART 1 PREPARING FOR FIELDWORK
1 Ethnographic skills to keep you sane	2
Isobel Gibbin
2 Safe and ethical ethnography: Looking inwards	18
Elena Butti
3 Cybersecurity and ethnography	33
James Shires
PART 2 DIVERSE IDENTITIES
4 Giving, taking and receiving care: Dis_ability and fieldwork	48
Isabel Bredenbröker and Tajinder Kaur
5 Reflexive ethnography in intimate spaces: Motherhood and care work in and outside the field	63
Elsemieke van Osch and Sharon Louise Smith
6 Fieldwork as a coded-as-Black woman	78
Sandra Fernandez
7 Sex, sexuality and the ethnographer in the field	92
Shannon Philip

PART 3 WORKING WITH INTERLOCUTORS

8	Betraying loyalty: Managing dis/trust as ethical feminist praxis	104
	Hareem Khan
9	Social media as method	118
	Branwen Spector and Theodora Sutton
10	Doing fieldwork in and on contexts of violence and instability	134
	Caitlin Procter
11	Fieldwork and feelled-work: Addressing mental health in ethnography	148
	Emma Louise Backe and Alex Fitzpatrick

PART 4 INCLUSIVITY IN ETHNOGRAPHIC WRITING

12	Participatory ethnographic methods: Collaborative data production, analysis and ethnographic representation	166
	Anne E. Pfister
13	Going against the grain in writing ethnography	182
	Ezgi Güler
	Concluding recommendations for educators	197
	Branwen Spector and Caitlin Procter
	Index	199