

Special Issue: Constitutional Imaginaries in Central and Eastern Europe

Guest Editor: Martin Belov

Constitutional Imaginaries in Central and Eastern Europe – Layered Narratives on Symbolic-Imaginary Constitutionalism in a Region Marked by Semi-Permanent Transformation and Transition Martin Belov	149-160
Transitory Imaginaries in Central and Eastern Europe: Reconsidering Constitutional Tradition and Constitutional Transition from Symbolic-Imaginary Perspective Martin Belov	161-189
Imaginary of Post-National European Constitutionalism: Lessons from Central European Philosophy, Sociology and Jurisprudence Jiří Přibán	190-216
Reimagining Spaces in Central and Eastern Europe or Memory Roulette: Legal, Political and Social Aspects Mirostaw Michał Sadowski	217-257
The Influence of the European Court of Justice and the Role of Social Imaginaries in EU Governance Petr Agha	258-276
Unmasking Authoritarian Constitutional Imaginary Zoltán Szente	277-297
Displacing the Constitution: Modernity, Sovereignty and Crisis in Interwar Romania Cosmin Sebastian Cercel	298-323
Historical Imagery and Mnemonic Constitutionalism in Belarus Uladzislau Belavusau	324-349

Articles

The Essence of the Right to Property under Art 1 of Protocol 1 to the ECHR: An Inviolable Core or a Purely Symbolic Concept? Cases from Central and Eastern Europe revisited Benedikt C. Harzl and Aistė Mickonytė	351-383
The European Court of Human Rights' Case Law on the Rights of Judges in the CEE States – Towards A Rule of Law Standard? Bianca Selejan-Guțan	384-416
Effective Judicial Protection of EU Law and Romanian Courts: Winding Through Res Judicata and State Liability Elena Simina Tănăsescu and Constantin Pintilie	417-445
Tax Treatment of Crypto Assets Under Serbian Law – Status Quo and Future Challenges Lidija Živković	446-473
Volume Contents	475-476