

Contents

List of Abbreviations		ix
List of Contributors		xi
Chapter 1	Introduction Cormac Mac Amhlaigh, Claudio Michelon, and Neil Walker	I
	PART I: THE NATURE OF PUBLIC AND PRIVATE LAW
Chapter 2	The Nature of Public Law Martin Loughlin	II
Chapter 3	Public Law and the Emergence of the Political Chris Thornhill	25
Chapter 4	Private and Public: Some Banalities About a Platitude William Lucy	56
Chapter 5	The Public, the Private, and the Law Claudio Michelon	83
	PART II: THE DOMAIN, VALUES, AND FUNCTIONS OF PUBLIC LAW
Chapter 6	Defending the Domain of Public Law Cormac Mac Amhlaigh	103
Chapter 7	Public Law as Democracy: The Case of Constitutional Rights Richard Bellamy	130
Chapter 8	The Nation as 'The Public': The Resilient Functionalism of Public Law Stephen Tierney	151
Chapter 9	Public Law, Private Law, and National Identity Hector MacQueen	168

PART III: THE EVOLUTION OF PUBLIC LAW?

Chapter 10	Globalization and the Transcendence of the Public/ Private Divide—What is Public Law under Conditions of Globalization? Inger-Johanne Sand	201
Chapter 11	(The Failure of) Public Law and the Deliberative Turn Oliver Gerstenberg	218
Chapter 12	The Post-national Horizon of Constitutionalism and Public Law: Paradigm Extension or Paradigm Exhaustion? Neil Walker	241
Chapter 13	The Global Governance of Public Law Megan Donaldson and Benedict Kingsbury	264
Chapter 14	The (re-)Constitution of the Public in a Global Arena Gianluigi Palombella	286
Index		311