

Contents

|                                                            |    |
|------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| Introduction by René Zavoral                               | 5  |
| “20 Years Since the Right Decision”                        | 6  |
| How Was the Research for “Divided by Europe” Created?      | 8  |
| Czechia 20 Years After Joining the EU                      | 10 |
| Opinion on the EU Divides Czech Society into Six Groups    | 12 |
| The Euro Enthusiasts                                       | 13 |
| The Supporters                                             | 14 |
| The Tepid Supporters                                       | 15 |
| The Undecided                                              | 16 |
| The Opponents                                              | 17 |
| The Die-hard Opponents                                     | 18 |
| The Czech Republic and the EU                              | 20 |
| Domestic Politics and Satisfaction with EU Membership      | 20 |
| Being Czech, European, a citizen of the Union              | 22 |
| Age or Demography Does Not Matter                          | 24 |
| Referendum is Not a Concern                                | 26 |
| How Much Do We (Not) Know About the EU                     | 28 |
| Where Do We Look to Steer: Preferably West, Ideally Centre | 30 |
| Back to Europe?                                            | 32 |
| Generation U(nion)                                         | 34 |
| What Is Next for Czechia in the EU?                        | 37 |
| “I Believe the EU Does Not Acutely Divide Us”              | 40 |