

Contents—Outline

Abbreviated Terms and Concepts	xix
Table of Cases	xxi
Table of Legislation	xxxix
I. Introduction	1
A. Geography of the Book	1
B. The Constitutionalization of the Law of Defamation	4
1. The application of constitutional provisions	4
2. General comments on balancing freedom of speech and reputation	7
C. Fundamental Principles of the Law of Defamation	10
D. Outline of the Main Themes of the Book	13
 II. The Right to Reputation	 15
A. Introduction	15
B. The Nature and Legal Protection of Reputation	17
1. The nature of reputation	17
2. Legal protection of reputation	20
(a) England	20
(b) South Africa	23
(c) The United States of America	25
C. The Values Underlying the Right to Reputation	26
1. Reputation as property	27
2. Reputation as honour	30
3. Reputation as dignity	33
D. Conclusion	41
 III. Freedom of Expression and Freedom of the Media	 43
A. Introduction	43
B. Freedom of Expression	44
1. Legal protection of freedom of expression	44
(a) England	45
(b) South Africa	48
(c) Australia	51
(d) The United States of America	52
2. Theories of freedom of expression	55
(a) Truth and the marketplace of ideas	56
(i) Truth and honest comment	58

(ii)	Contextual reporting by the media	59
(iii)	Replying to defamatory allegations	60
(iv)	Remedies	61
(b)	The argument from democracy	62
(i)	Locus standi	67
(ii)	Defamatory statements	68
(iii)	Defences of truth and honest comment	68
(iv)	Parliamentary privilege	69
(v)	Protection for publishing false facts to the public	70
(vi)	Statutory qualified privilege	75
(vii)	Remedies	75
(c)	The argument from human dignity	77
C.	Freedom of the Media	79
1.	Legal protection of media freedom	80
2.	Justifications for media freedom	81
3.	Media defamation law	84
4.	Treating the media differently in defamation law	88
(a)	Special rights for media defendants	88
(b)	Special responsibilities for media defendants	91
D.	Conclusion	94
IV.	Public Speech	96
A.	Introduction	96
B.	Public Speech in the Law of Defamation	96
1.	The occasion of the publication	97
2.	The status of the claimant	99
(a)	Locus standi restrictions	99
(b)	Public officials and figures	100
3.	The public nature of the speech	104
(a)	Honest comment and truth for the public benefit	104
(b)	Defences for the publication of false facts	108
(i)	Public speech in the English responsible publication defence and in the jurisprudence of the European Court of Human Rights	108
(ii)	Public speech in the South African reasonable publication defence	114
(iii)	Australia and New Zealand	116
(iv)	Public concern in US defamation jurisprudence	118
C.	The Law of Privacy and Public Speech	122
1.	The United States of America	123
2.	South Africa	126
3.	English jurisprudence	128
4.	European Court of Human Rights jurisprudence	135
D.	The Principles Informing Public Speech	138
1.	Decisions about whether speech is public or private	139

2. The core of public speech: political speech	143
3. Public speech generally	144
E. Conclusion	154
V. The Presumption of Falsity	156
A. Introduction	156
B. The Legal Position in Various Jurisdictions	157
1. England and the European Court of Human Rights	157
2. South Africa	159
3. The United States of America	161
C. Analysis of the Presumption of Falsity	162
1. The protection of reputation	163
2. Freedom of expression	168
3. The doctrine of neutralization	173
4. The rules of evidence	182
D. Conclusion	183
VI. Fault and Defamation Liability	185
A. Introduction	185
B. Fault in the Common Law of Defamation	186
C. Constitutional Fault Requirements	188
1. The responsible publication defence in England	188
2. The jurisprudence of the European Court of Human Rights	194
3. The reasonable publication defence in South Africa	195
4. Reasonable publication defences in Australia	197
5. The role of fault in US defamation law	199
D. The Appropriate Fault Standard for Public Speech	201
1. Actual malice	202
2. Negligence	206
E. Fault Liability for Secondary Publishers	212
1. The legal regime for secondary publishers	212
2. The appropriate standard of fault for secondary publishers	215
F. Conclusion	219
VII. Aspects of Damages and Costs	221
A. Introduction	221
B. The Purposes of Damages Awards	222
1. Compensatory damages	222
2. Punitive damages	223
C. The Legal Position in the Principal Jurisdictions Considered	224
1. England and Australia	224

2. South Africa	227
3. The United States of America	227
D. Analysis of Presumed and Punitive Damages	229
1. The protection of reputation	229
(a) Presumed damages	230
(i) Difficulties of proving reputation	230
(ii) Vindication of the reputation of the claimant	233
(b) Presumed and punitive damages	234
2. Freedom of expression	237
E. The Quantum of Damages For Defamation	241
1. Damages awards in English law and the jurisprudence of the European Court of Human Rights	243
2. Public speech cases in South Africa	246
F. Legal Costs	247
1. General costs rules and freedom of expression	247
2. The 'David and Goliath' dilemma	252
G. Conclusion	254
VIII. Alternative Remedies	256
A. Introduction	256
B. The Legal Position in England, South Africa, and the United States of America	257
1. England	257
2. South Africa	259
3. The United States of America	260
C. The Need for Alternative Remedies	261
1. Inadequacy of damages	261
2. The importance of truth	264
D. Analysis of Alternative Remedies	267
1. Injunctions	267
2. Rights of reply	267
3. Apologies, corrections, and retractions	270
4. Declarations of falsity	273
E. Conclusion	278
IX. Conclusion	280
Bibliography	287
Index	317