

Contents

Acknowledgements	v
Table of Cases	xv
Table of Legislation	xvii

1. Introduction	1
A. Who is a non-citizen?	1
B. Common problems regarding the rights of non-citizens	2
C. Purpose and thesis of the book	5
D. Sources of international law	5
Jus cogens	6
United Nations Charter	8
Multilateral treaties	9
Interpretive material	10
International custom	12
Other non-treaty instruments	14
E. Conclusion	16
F. Categories of non-citizens	16
2. History of the rights of non-citizens	18
A. Development of the rights of non-citizens	18
Attitudes during the ancient period	18
The Middle Ages	21
Between the Middle Ages and the birth of the UN	23
Diplomatic protection	25
Treaties	27
Twentieth-century developments predating the creation of the UN	30
B. The UN and the modern human rights regime	31
Birth of the UN	32
Formation of the International Bill of Human Rights	33
Human rights and the rights of non-citizens	34
C. Conclusion	36
Further reading	38
Appendix: CERD General Recommendation 30	39

3. Treaty law and interpretation	45
A. The general principle of equality for non-citizens	45
B. Right to life; right to contact consular officials; no arbitrary detention; freedom from torture	50
C. Liberty of movement; right to enter one's own country	52
D. Recognition and equal protection before the law; equality before courts; fair and public hearings; freedom from retrospective penal legislation	53
E. Rights as members of minorities; right to culture, religion, and language	53
F. Freedom of thought and conscience; peaceful assembly and freedom of association; no arbitrary interference with privacy etc	55
G. Protection from refoulement and arbitrary expulsion	57
H. Right to acquire, maintain, and transmit citizenship	61
I. Protection from discrimination on the basis of gender	64
J. Rights to health, education, housing, and social security	65
K. Rights of stateless persons	66
L. Rights of non-citizen workers and their families	67
M. Rights of refugees, asylum seekers, and victims of trafficking	71
N. Rights of non-citizen children	75
O. Conclusion	77
Further reading	77
4. Stateless persons	79
A. Right to a nationality, protections against statelessness, and human rights of stateless persons	79
B. De jure and de facto statelessness and the 1954 and 1961 statelessness conventions	83
C. Mechanisms of statelessness	86
Mechanisms of de jure statelessness	86
Mechanisms of de facto statelessness	95
D. Obstacles, hardships, and hurdles faced by stateless persons	96
E. Addressing the problem of statelessness	102
International law and remedies for statelessness	104
Regional interest in the reduction of statelessness	107
F. Conclusion	107
Further reading	108

5. Asylum seekers	110
A. Introduction	110
B. Definition of asylum seeker	110
C. Refugee and asylee status determination	111
UNHCR involvement in refugee status determination	112
Interception and interdiction	113
Preliminary determination procedures	115
Orderly departure	117
Group determination procedures	118
Informal and ad-hoc asylum	119
UNHCR mandate and program refugees	121
Refugee reception rates	122
D. Asylum-seeking populations around the world	123
E. The rights of asylum seekers	125
Rights of asylum seekers whose claims have not been filed	126
Rights of asylum seekers whose claims are pending review	127
Rights of asylum seekers regardless of whether claims have been filed	127
Rights of children asylum seekers	129
F. The plight of asylum seekers	130
G. Conclusion	132
Further reading	133
6. Rejected asylum seekers	134
A. The human rights of rejected asylum seekers	134
B. Political, economic, and social issues	139
C. National policies regarding rejected asylum seekers	143
Measures to reduce the number of rejected asylum seekers on State territory	143
Measures designed to ensure the cooperation of countries of origin	145
D. Life after an asylum application has been rejected	146
Criminalization and detention of rejected asylum seekers	147
Deportation to a dangerous country of origin	148
Deprivation of healthcare, housing, and other social services	149
E. Conclusion	150
Further reading	150
7. Refugees	152
A. Introduction and definition of 'refugee'	152
Well-founded fear of persecution	153

Grounds for persecution	155
Gender-based grounds for persecution	158
Outside country of nationality	159
Unavailability of protection	159
Grounds for exclusion	160
Regional definitions of refugees	160
B. The rights of refugees	161
C. Protections for refugees	163
Durable solutions and the role of States	165
Voluntary repatriation	165
Local integration	167
Resettlement	168
Temporary refugee protection	169
D. Refugee populations around the world	171
E. The plight of refugees	173
F. The vulnerability of refugee women and girls	177
G. Conclusion	178
Further reading	179
 8. Migrants	 182
A. Introduction	182
B. The human rights of migrants	183
C. Mechanisms for the protection of migrants	193
D. The plight of migrant workers	197
Housing and employment discrimination	197
Abuse	198
Arbitrary detention and expulsion	199
Irregular movement and high-risk travel	200
The plight of women migrants	202
E. Conclusion	203
Further reading	204
 9. Trafficked persons	 207
A. Introduction	207
B. The human rights of trafficked persons	208
C. Measures to combat and prevent trafficking	212
D. The plight of trafficked women and girls	214
E. Conclusion	215
Further reading	216

10. International humanitarian law and non-citizens	218
A. Availability of international humanitarian law	218
B. Protections afforded by the Geneva Conventions	220
Protected person status	221
The prohibition of forcible transfer and deportation	222
Internment and assignment of residence	225
Section II of the Fourth Geneva Convention	228
C. Protections provided by Protocol I	233
D. Protections provided by Protocol II	235
E. Protections provided by customary international humanitarian law	237
F. Conclusion	239
Further reading	239
11. Conclusions and recommendations	241
Selected general bibliography	245
Index	247