Contents

List of contributors vii
Foreword xii
Gabriela Ramos

Introduction: AI and international human rights law 1
Michał Balcerzak and Julia Kapelańska-Pręgowska

PART I EFFORTS OF INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

1 Implications of the United Nations human rights standards for the development of artificial intelligence 6
Michał Balcerzak

2 Council of Europe standards and activities related to AI: towards a Framework Convention on AI and human rights? 25
Elżbieta Hanna Morawska

3 Navigating the AI landscape in the EU: fostering innovation while upholding ethical principles 45
Piotr Staszczyk

PART II AI AND HUMAN RIGHTS: SPECIFIC ISSUES AND WAYS TO ADDRESS THEM

4 A rights-based approach to automated decision-making in the public sector 69
Marya Akhtar and Rikke Frank Jørgensen

5 Pegasus contra democratic process: experience from Europe 86
Agnieszka Bień-Kacała

6 AI in healthcare and biomedical sciences: the need for human rights impact assessment 103
Julia Kapelańska-Pręgowska, Emilia Sarnacka and Katarzyna Syroka-Marczewska

7 European Union data protection law and the use of facial recognition technology for the purpose of fighting crime 124
Joanna Mazur and Zuzanna Choińska

8 Deepfakes: new challenges for law and democracy 145
Ewa Michałkiewicz-Kądziela

9 The evolution of copyright in the age of artificial intelligence: challenges and perspectives 158
Ewa Milczarek

10 Enhancing human rights accountability of algorithmic media: an African perspective on inclusive regulation 171
Anne Oloo

11 Artificial intelligence and the right to an effective remedy 196
Maria O'Sullivan

12 Work-related human rights and artificial intelligence 214
Joanna Rezmer

13 Protection of consumers against abuse of artificial intelligence in electronic trade: the scalper bots case 231
Maciej Jerzy Siwicki

14 Artificial intelligence and the right to a fair trial 250
Tomasz Sroka

15 Artificial intelligence and international humanitarian law in the work of the parties to the Conventional Weapons Convention: lethal autonomous weapons 278
Agnieszka Szpak

16 Exploring the challenges of artificial intelligence in refugee status determination: a human rights approach 294
Lutiana Valadares Fernandes Barbosa and Ana Luísa Zago de Moraes

17 AI in court: the promotion and regulation of information technology in China's Smart Court movements 309
Peng Wang and Guannan Qu

Index 325