

Contents

I. Equality: Concepts and Controversies	I
I The principle of equality	4
(i) Background and development	4
(ii) Formal equality or equality as consistency	7
(iii) Equality of results	11
(iv) Equality of opportunity	14
II A value driven approach	15
(i) Dignity	17
(ii) Remedial and restitutionary aims	19
(iii) Distributive justice	20
(iv) Participative democracy	22
III Competing values: liberty or equality	23
(i) Liberty	23
(ii) Business or market oriented concerns	24
IV Conclusion	26
2. Sources of Discrimination: Racism, Sexism, and Prejudice	27
I Women	27
II Race, religion, and ethnicity	36
III Sexual orientation	54
IV Disability	58
V Age discrimination	59
3. The Scope of Discrimination Law	66
I Grounds of discrimination	67
(i) Defining the grounds of discrimination: who decides and how?	67
(ii) Stretching existing categories: semantics or substance	68
(iii) Generating protected grounds: judicial principles	76
II Scope of discrimination law	82
(i) Sex, race, and disability discrimination legislation	83
(ii) The Human Rights Act 1998, incorporating the ECHR	85

(iii) EU law	89
III Conclusion	90
4. Legal Concepts: Direct, Indirect Discrimination, and Beyond	92
I Treat likes alike: equal pay and direct discrimination	93
(i) Consistency rather than substance	94
(ii) Equality as conformity: the need for a comparator	95
(iii) Competing priorities: justifying discrimination and market constraints	102
(iv) The aims of direct discrimination: symmetry	104
II Indirect discrimination	106
(i) Substance or consistency	108
(ii) The role of the comparator	109
(iii) Competing priorities	112
(iv) Aims of indirect discrimination	115
III Equality as proportionality	116
IV Equality as dignity	119
V Beyond indirect discrimination: equal opportunities and positive duties	121
5. Symmetry or Substance: Reverse Discrimination	125
I Concepts of equality and reverse discrimination	126
(i) Formal equality: symmetry and State neutrality	126
(ii) Substantive equality	128
(iii) Equal opportunities	129
II Reverse discrimination and the law: contrasting jurisdictions	130
(i) The UK: the dominance of formal equality	130
(ii) EC law: equal opportunities	136
(iii) Fair employment and Northern Ireland: equal opportunity or substantive justice	143
(iv) Symmetry v. substance: the US Supreme Court	145
III Aims and effectiveness	150
(i) Removal of barriers and redressing past disadvantage	150
(ii) Representation and perspective	153
(iii) Role models and diversity	156
(iv) Competing claims: preference for whom?	159
IV Conclusion	160

6. Rights and Remedies: the Limits of the Law	161
I Adversarialism: the narrow reach of adjudication	163
(i) Tribunals	163
(ii) County courts, the High Court and the ECJ	168
(iii) Remedies	170
(iv) A critique of the adversarial structure	174
II Agency enforcement	175
III 'Fourth generation' equality: positive duties	176
(i) To whom does the duty apply?	178
(ii) The duty: triggers and content	179
(iii) Process of decision-making: participatory democracy	181
(iv) Enforceability	182
(v) Aims and objectives	188
IV Conclusion	194