

CONTENTS

Memoir of M. J. Levett by D. R. Cousin	ix
Preface by Myles Burnyeat	xi
Introduction by Myles Burnyeat	1
Prologue and introductory conversation (142a–151d)	3
Part I 'Knowledge is perception'	7
The overall strategy of 151d–184a	7
Exposition of the three theses (151d–160e)	10
Critique of the three theses (160e–184a)	19
The critique interrupted (171d–177c)	31
The critique resumed: (i) refutation of Protagoras (177c–179b)	39
The critique resumed: (ii) refutation of Heraclitus (179c–183c)	42
Conclusion to Part I (184a–186e): perception and judgement	52
Afterthought	61
Part II 'Knowledge is true judgement'	65
Structural preliminaries	65
The puzzle (188ac)	70
Alternative diagnoses	73
Different approaches (188c–190e)	77
Alternative diagnoses	83
The Wax Block (191a–195b)	90
Criticism of the Wax Block (195b–196d)	101
The Aviary (196d–199c)	105
Criticism of the Aviary (199c–200c)	115
True and false judgement in retrospect	119
The Jury (200d–201c)	124

Part III 'Knowledge is true judgement with an account'	128
The theory at Stage One: Theaetetus' report (201cd)	129
The theory at Stage Two: Socrates' dream (201d–202c)	134
Wittgenstein and the Dream	149
Antisthenes and the Dream	164
True judgement in the Dream	173
Perception in the Dream	181
The theory at Stage Three: letters and syllables (202c–203c)	187
Parts and wholes: (i) the dilemma (203c–205e)	191
Parts and wholes: (ii) progress towards knowledge (206ab, 207d–208b)	209
Telling the difference (208c–210a)	219
Finale (210ad) and conclusions	234
Select Bibliography of Further Reading	243
Analysis by M. J. Levett	251
The Theaetetus of Plato	259