

Detailed Contents

|                                   |       |
|-----------------------------------|-------|
| List of Figures and Tables | xv    |
| Table of Cases             | xvii  |
| Table of Legislation       | xxiii |
| List of Abbreviations      | xxv   |

|  |    |
|--|----|
| Introduction: Setting the Scene              | 1  |
| 1. The New Dynamics                          | 3  |
| 1.1 Platformization                          | 3  |
| 1.2 Platform ‘Monopolies’                    | 4  |
| 1.3 ‘Competition’ Problems?                  | 6  |
| 2. The Need to ‘Look Up’                     | 8  |
| 2.1 Platforms’ Discontents                   | 8  |
| 2.2 Antitrust as a Relevant Policy Response? | 11 |
| 2.3 Caveats                                  | 14 |

I. SOUL-SEARCHING

|  |    |
|--|----|
| 1. ‘Consumer Welfare’: Antitrust’s Consequentialist Turn | 23 |
| 1. Introduction  | 23 |
| 2. ‘Consumer Welfare’: A Polymorphic Ideal               | 24 |
| 2.1 Borkian Consumer Welfare                             | 24 |
| 2.2 The Offshoots of Borkian Consumer Welfare            | 27 |
| 2.2.1 Total surplus                                      | 27 |
| 2.2.2 ( Strong ) consumer surplus                 | 28 |
| 2.2.3 Consumer choice/sovereignty                        | 29 |
| 2.3 Summation  | 30 |
| 3. Appraising the Normativity of ‘Consumer Welfare’      | 30 |
| 3.1 Total Welfare  | 31 |
| 3.2 Total Surplus  | 31 |
| 3.2.1 Wealth redistribution                              | 32 |
| 3.2.2 Welfare as ‘monetary surplus’                      | 33 |
| 3.3 ( Strong ) Consumer Surplus                   | 35 |
| 3.3.1 Theoretical foundations                            | 35 |
| 3.3.1.1 Efficiency                                       | 35 |
| 3.3.1.2 Distributive justice                             | 36 |
| 3.3.1.3 Corrective justice                               | 37 |
| 3.3.1.4 Political economy                                | 38 |

|   |    |
|---|----|
| 3.3.2 The consumer's many faces                           | 39 |
| 3.4 Consumer Choice/Sovereignty                           | 42 |
| 4. Concluding Reflections                                 | 43 |
| 2. 'Competition, as Such': Antitrust's Deontological Side | 45 |
| 1. Introduction   | 45 |
| 2. Competition as a Value                                 | 47 |
| 3. Expounding the Normativity of 'Competition, as Such'   | 51 |
| 3.1 Competition as Economic Democracy                     | 53 |
| 3.2 Competition and Fairness                              | 58 |
| 3.2.1 Competition's moral content                         | 58 |
| 3.2.2 Competition and the two sides of 'fairness'         | 59 |
| 4. Concluding Reflections                                 | 63 |

II. LOOKING UP

|                                     |     |
|-------------------------------------|-----|
| 3. Despotism                        | 71  |
| 1. Introduction                     | 71  |
| 2. Autocratic Platforms             | 72  |
| 2.1 Private Autocratic Governance   | 73  |
| 2.2 The Claims                      | 75  |
| 3. Despotism and 'Consumer Welfare' | 77  |
| 3.1 Marketer Platforms              | 77  |
| 3.1.1 The monopsony theory          | 77  |
| 3.1.2 Bargaining theories           | 78  |
| 3.2 Broker Platforms                | 82  |
| 3.2.1 Prolegomenon                  | 82  |
| 3.2.2 Application                   | 83  |
| 3.3 Labour Platforms                | 84  |
| 3.4 Summation                       | 88  |
| 4. Despotism and 'Freedom'          | 88  |
| 4.1 Prolegomenon                    | 88  |
| 4.2 Coercion                        | 90  |
| 4.2.1 Prolegomenon                  | 90  |
| 4.2.2 Theorizing coercion           | 91  |
| 4.2.2.1 Empirical                   | 92  |
| 4.2.2.2 Normative                   | 93  |
| 4.3 Oppression                      | 96  |
| 4.3.1 Theorizing oppression         | 97  |
| 4.3.2 Caveats                       | 100 |
| 4.4 Summation                       | 103 |
| 5. Concluding Reflections           | 104 |
| 4. Game-Mastering                   | 105 |
| 1. Introduction                     | 105 |
| 2. Game-Mastering Platforms         | 105 |

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 2.1 Platforms as Game-Masters                    | 105 |
| 2.2 The Claims                                   | 106 |
| 3. Game-Mastering and 'Consumer Welfare'         | 109 |
| 3.1 King-making                                  | 110 |
| 3.1.1 Incentives?                                | 110 |
| 3.1.2 Harm?                                      | 110 |
| 3.1.3 Endemic?                                   | 113 |
| 3.2 Self-preferencing                            | 115 |
| 3.2.1 Incentives?                                | 116 |
| 3.2.2 Harm?                                      | 117 |
| 3.2.2.1 (Informed) informal theories?            | 117 |
| 3.2.2.2 Formal theories?                         | 121 |
| 3.3 Data-twinkling                               | 122 |
| 3.3.1 'Consumer welfare' as a smokescreen?       | 122 |
| 3.3.2 Incentives?                                | 123 |
| 3.3.3 Harm?                                      | 125 |
| 3.4 Summation                                    | 127 |
| 4. Game-Mastering and ' ex ante Fairness' | 128 |
| 4.1 Prolegomenon                                 | 128 |
| 4.2 The Ideal(s) of EOp                          | 130 |
| 4.2.1 Formal                                     | 130 |
| 4.2.1.1 Neutral                                  | 130 |
| 4.2.1.2 Meritocratic                             | 132 |
| 4.2.2 Substantive                                | 134 |
| 4.2.2.1 Starting-gate                            | 135 |
| 4.2.2.2 Rawlsian                                 | 138 |
| 4.2.2.3 Radical                                  | 140 |
| 4.3 Summation                                    | 144 |
| 5. Concluding Reflections                        | 144 |
| 5. Free-Riding                                   | 148 |
| 1. Introduction                                  | 148 |
| 2. Free-Riding Platforms                         | 150 |
| 2.1 The Claims                                   | 150 |
| 2.2 Beyond the Rhetoric                          | 153 |
| 2.2.1 Free-riding                                | 153 |
| 2.2.2 'Stealing'                                 | 154 |
| 3. Free-Riding and 'Consumer Welfare'            | 155 |
| 3.1 Scraping                                     | 156 |
| 3.1.1 Prolegomenon                               | 156 |
| 3.1.2 Innovation theories                        | 157 |
| 3.1.3 Creators, intermediaries, and incentives   | 160 |
| 3.2 Sherlocking                                  | 165 |
| 3.2.1 Prolegomenon                               | 165 |
| 3.2.2 Foreclosure theories                       | 167 |
| 3.2.3 Innovation theories                        | 169 |

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| 3.3 Summation                               | 171 |
| 4. Free-Riding and 'Fairness'               | 172 |
| 4.1 Prolegomenon                            | 172 |
| 4.2 Free-Riding and ex ante Fairness | 174 |
| 4.2.1 EOp-sensitive antitrust recalled      | 174 |
| 4.2.2 Free-riding and Roemerian EOp         | 175 |
| 4.3 Free-Riding and Outcome Fairness        | 178 |
| 4.4 Summation                               | 179 |
| 5. Concluding Reflections                   | 179 |

III. INTERVENTION

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| 6. Antitrust's Internal Quandaries                        | 185 |
| 1. Introduction   | 185 |
| 2. What (Kind of) Enforcement Standards?                  | 186 |
| 2.1 The (Range of) Options                                | 186 |
| 2.2 Optimal, Reasonable, or Resolute Standards?           | 189 |
| 2.2.1 Optimal standards                                   | 189 |
| 2.2.2 Reasonable standards                                | 190 |
| 2.2.2.1 Prolegomenon                                      | 190 |
| 2.2.2.2 Application                                       | 192 |
| 2.2.3 Resolute standards                                  | 199 |
| 3. What (Form(s) of) Power?                               | 201 |
| 3.1 The Forms of (Platform) Power                         | 202 |
| 3.1.1 Market power  | 202 |
| 3.1.2 Relational/relative market power and its outgrowths | 203 |
| 3.1.3 Ecosystem power                                     | 204 |
| 3.1.4 Regulatory power                                    | 205 |
| 3.1.5 Informational power                                 | 206 |
| 3.1.5.1 Insider's power                                   | 206 |
| 3.1.5.2 Panoptic power                                    | 207 |
| 3.1.6 Systemic power                                      | 208 |
| 3.2 Optimal, Reasonable, or Resolute Power Radar?         | 209 |
| 3.2.1 Optimal radar                                       | 209 |
| 3.2.2 Reasonable radar                                    | 211 |
| 3.2.3 Resolute radar                                      | 213 |
| 4. What (Sort of) Remedies?                               | 215 |
| 4.1 The Remedial Toolkit                                  | 216 |
| 4.2 Optimal, Reasonable, or Resolute Remedies?            | 218 |
| 4.2.1 Optimal remedies                                    | 218 |
| 4.2.2 Reasonable remedies                                 | 219 |
| 4.2.3 Resolute remedies                                   | 223 |
| 5. Concluding Reflections                                 | 227 |
| 7. Antitrust's Interplays                                 | 229 |
| 1. Introduction   | 229 |

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| 2. Market Supervision and the Interfacing Question                  | 230 |
| 3. Deferential Antitrust: Between Respect and Boldness              | 232 |
| 3.1 Deference as Respect  | 232 |
| 3.2 Deference as Boldness   | 235 |
| 4. Regulation   | 240 |
| 4.1 The Need for Regulation   | 240 |
| 4.2 What Regulation?  | 241 |
| 5. Concluding Reflections   | 245 |
| Conclusion  | 247 |
| 1. Taking Stock   | 247 |
| 2. Final Reflections  | 254 |
| Appendix A. Platform Economy Diagnosis in Policy Reports | 263 |
| Appendix B. Concern for the Upstream in Policy Reports       | 271 |
| Appendix C. Enforcement Standards in Policy Reports          | 279 |
| Appendix D. Platform Power in Policy Reports                 | 287 |
| Appendix E. Remedies in Policy Reports                       | 297 |
| Bibliography   | 307 |
| Index  | 347 |