

Contents

1	Introduction: Reflectivity in Philosophical, Sociological, Psychological and Pedagogical Contexts.	1
	Zuzana Havrdová and Walter Lorenz
2	The Significance of Reflectivity in Professional Social and Health Care in Relation to Changing Socio-Political Contexts	17
	Walter Lorenz
3	Promoting Reflective Learning Styles Among Social Work and Nursing Students: A Review	39
	Monika Čajko Eibicht and Walter Lorenz
4	Supervision at the Workplace as a Unique Space for Reflection	61
	Martin Hajný and Zuzana Havrdová
5	Gender Aspects of Reflectivity in the Social and Healthcare Field: Forms of Feminization of the Caring Profession as Frames for Reflexivity	83
	Monika Bosá
6	Reflective Approaches to Professionalisation Through Legislation, Structures and Cultures: Example from Czech Social and Health Services	107
	Matěj Lejsal and Jiří Krejčí
7	Researching Reflectivity by Scales	129
	Iva Šolcová, Filip Děchtěrenko, and Zuzana Havrdová
8	The Interaction Between Institutional Cultures and Individual Dispositions to Self-Reflection: A Hierarchical Analysis.	147
	Zuzana Havrdová

9 Levels of Reflectivity: Conditions and Strategies for Supporting Reflectivity in Healthcare and Social Care Services: Qualitative Research. 175
Zuzana Havrdová and Walter Lorenz

10 Towards an Integrated Approach to Fostering Reflectivity in Social and Health Professions 201
Walter Lorenz

Bibliography 213

Index. 235