

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	ix
List of contributors	xi
INTRODUCTION	1
1 The biographical turn: Biography as critical method in the humanities and in society Hans Renders, Binne de Haan and Jonne Harmsma	3
SECTION 1
The biographical turn in the humanities	13
2 Biography as corrective Nigel Hamilton	15
3 The plurality of the past: Historical time and the rediscovery of biography Sabina Loriga	31
4 The life is never over: Biography as a microhistorical approach Sigurður Gylfi Magnússon	42
5 Personalised history: On biofiction, source criticism and the critical value of biography Binne de Haan	53

6	The life effect: Literature studies and the biographical perspective Joanny Moulin	68
7	Biography as a concept of thought: On the premises of biographical research and narrative Christian Klein	79
SECTION 2
The biographical turn in fields of knowledge		89
8	Biographies as multipliers: The First World War as turning point in the lives of modernist artists Hans Renders and Sjoerd van Faassen	91
9	'Honest politics': A biographical perspective on economic expertise as a political style Jonne Harmsma	104
10	Rediscovering agency in the Atlantic: A biographical approach linking entrepreneurial spirit and overseas companies Kaarle Wirta	118
11	Building bridges to past centuries: Religion and empathy in early modern biography Enny de Bruijn	129
12	Palatable and unpalatable leaders: Apartheid and post-Apartheid Afrikaner biography Lindie Koorts	141
SECTION 3
The biographical turn in academia and society		157
13	Biography is not a selfie: Authorisation as the creeping transition from autobiography to biography Hans Renders	159
14	What are we turning from? Research and ideology in biography and life writing Craig Howes	165

15	Liberation from low dark space: Biography beside and beyond the academy Carl Rollyson	176
16	From academic historian to popular biographer: Musings on the practical poetics of biography Debby Applegate	186
	Bibliography	194
	Index	214