

---

Contents

---

About the editor	viii
List of contributors	x
Preface	xviii
1     Doing sensitive research in the social sciences: setting the scene Pranee Liamputtong	1
PART I   DOING SENSITIVE RESEARCH: CONCEPTUAL UNDERSTANDING
2     The locus of sensitive research Gabriele Griffin	25
3     The emotional labour of conducting sensitive research: the researchers’ perspective Esmée Hanna and Richard Hall	38
4     The art of ‘sensitive’ supervision: supporting, sharing and strengthening Sharon Mallon, Erica Borgstrom and Sam Murphy	55
5     ‘Majority doesn’t exist’: a critical perspective on research with LGBTQ+ people Clifford Lewis and Nina Reynolds	64
6     Exploring death, dying, and bereavement: characteristics and challenges of a sensitive field of research Ekkehard Coenen and Matthias Meitzler	77
7     Social street work: intervention method as a research method in sensitive research? Tiago A. Lobo-Dos-Santos	93
8     Your voice matters!—(unintended) exclusion practices in sensitive research and older people Katja A. Rießenberger, Barbara Barbosa Neves and Florian Fischer	115
PART II   RESEARCH METHODS AND ETHICAL ISSUES FOR CONDUCTING SENSITIVE RESEARCH
9     Drawing as an arts-based method for researching sensitive topics Jari Martikainen	132

10	Navigating sensitivity in urban research: methodological reflections from using photovoice with street traders Elmond Bandauko and Godwin Arku	147
11	Researcher-made drawings and researching sensitive topics Baldwin Van Gorp	159
12	Music elicitation and the art of listening Jade Levell	174
13	The use of instant messaging in sensitive research Jordan Dawson and Yibo Fan	184
14	Using visual research methods for research with chronically ill children Ana Patrícia Hilário, Fábio Rafael Augusto and Joana Mendonça	198
15	Ethical guidelines for doing research with children in sensitive subject areas Ingrid Stapf and Jessica Heesen	210
16	Ethical issues in participatory research with grieving children Miriam Sitter	221
17	Ethical guidelines for interview research with parents of underage children in the context of migration Eveliina Heino and Maija Jäppinen	236
PART III CONDUCTING SENSITIVE RESEARCH IN THE SOCIAL SCIENCES: REFLECTIONS FROM THE FIELD
18	Sensitively researching vulnerable populations—reflections from the field... Declan Fahie	254
19	Researcher vulnerability: doing qualitative research in sensitive fields as mental health professionals Annette Binder	265
20	'Nothing about us without us': researching sexual and reproductive health with priority populations Judith A. Dean, Olivia Hollingdrake, James A. Fowler and Sarah Warzywoda	281
21	Against and with the silence: language, relations and methods in qualitative research on pregnancy loss and perinatal bereavement Julia Böcker	300
22	Researching with individuals/couples undergoing IVF treatments: ethical, practical and methodological insights from within the field Catarina Delaunay, Amélia Augusto, Mário J. D. S. Santos and Luís Gouveia	317

23	From field to self: (in)sensitivities encountered in researching sexual harassment in Sri Lankan workplaces Arosha S. Adikaram	339
24	Researching rape that is not recognised: an auto/biographical understanding of woman-to-woman rape and sexual assault Rebecca (Bex) Twinley	354
25	Adventures in sex work: a pracademic's perspective in Switzerland Lorena Molnar	371
26	Conducting research with adolescents experiencing marginalisation and vulnerability Jessica A. Heerde, Stephanie Begun, Lucas Calais Ferreira, Cristyn Davies, Marie Habito, Kristi Morrison, Lindsay Pearce, Farnaz Sabet, Amy M. Salazar, Jennifer A. Bailey and Susan M. Sawyer	384
27	Researching young people's experiences with alcohol, drinking and drunkenness Samantha Wilkinson and Catherine Wilkinson	403
28	Researching hate crime with LGBTQ+ individuals James Pickles	418
29	Que(e)ry-ing the nexus of vulnerabilities: the sensitive nature of research into LGBTQ+ and CALD survivor experiences of intimate partner violence Alex Workman, Angela Dwyer and Tony Rossi	435
30	Researching sensitive issues with men: some reflections Martin Robb	447
31	The challenges of engaging in meaningful research on gender, domestic and sexual violence, and filicide Samantha Burton and Amie Simington	457
32	Reflections on researching interpersonal violence against older adults: obstacles and opportunities Hannah Bows	479
33	Challenges for meaningful participation in prisoner or corrective services research Nicole Peel, Alex Workman, Samantha Burton and Arianne Reis	491
34	'Someone would have to die for me to give up': the experience of researching suicide Laura Patterson	506
35	End-of-life care and the human researcher: the emotional impact of sensitive research on researchers Zana Bayley	522
	Index	537